TEXAS SCHOOL GIRL BRUTALLY SLAIN

BELIEVE MEXICAN MURDERER OF GIRL IN SAN ANTONIO

SEARCH VEERS FROM ATASCOSA COUNTY SOON AFTER BODY IS FOUND

SAN ANTONIO, Apri 23.—(AP)—While farmers of Atascosa county combed the blackjack country for the slayer of Merle Springer, 11 year old school girl, the search swung to San Antonio, this morning with the announcement an immediate arrest was expected here.

The child's body, stabbed 23 times near the heart, was found in a ravine about 300 yards from her home last night. She had been slain going home from school.

Sheriff John Lott of Atascosa county, conferring with police here, said he had avidence pointing to a 20-year-old San Antonian as the slayer. A search was started immediately.

The girl, stepdaughter of Elmo Dickey of Leming community, 20 miles south of San Antonio, was last seen alive as she was walking home from school yesterday afternoon.

Alarmed when she did not arrive from school, her family began a search. An hour later the body was found. The region of the heart had been punctured 23 times as though with a dull knife blade.

Sheriff Lott was called and his investigation revealed that a young San Antonio man had been working in a field in the vicinity. When the suspect could not be located, Lott searched the man's camp and found a pair of overalls with blood in one pocket and blood on the knees, Lot said. The overalls were rolled up and had been placed in a camp bunk.

HOUSE VOTES TO RESTORE BATTLE FLAG OF TEXAS

REPAIRS AUTHORIZED LAND OFFICE BUILDING USED AS MUSEUM

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)— The house today voted to appropriate $500 to restore the original battle flag of San Jacinto and further perpetuate the cause of the Texas revolution.

The appropiration was asked in an amendment by Representative Anderson of San Antonio to a bill by Senator Hornsby of Austin which prposed that the state appropriate money to repair, reroof and renovate the old land office building, the oldest of the group of buildings on the capitol campus. The Hornsby bill originally called for an appropriation of $15,000 but a house committee recommended $6,000. The house passed the bill.

The San Jacinto battle flag is now stored away in a case in the land office building. The proposed appropriation of $500 would be used to give it a chemical treatment.

Sweeping Cuts In Gas Rates For Amarillo

AMARILLO, April 23.—(AP)— A sweeping cut in prices was announced oday by the Amarillo Gas Company as the latest development in the controversy between the city and the gas company over local rates. The maximum domestic rate was reduced from 38 cents to 27 cents, and the schedule to commercial users was lowered on a varying scale from 10 to 20 percent.

The gas company, said R. E. Wertz, president, was forced to the reduction to "save its investment." Mayor Ernest Thompson, who recently negotiated contracts withouside sources for delivery of gas to the city limits as 5 cents and had announced the city would install its own distribution system, had not commented upon the new schedule.

Mayor Thompson had offered a city rate from 22 1-2 cents to 7 cents. The new schedule by the gas company ranges from 27 cents to 8 cents.

LACK OF STATESMANSHIP WAS CAUSE CIVIL WAR ACCORDING LETTERS STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 23—(AP)—Discovery in a barn of more than 20,000 letters to and from Stephen A. Douglas was announced by George Fort Milton today n the 118th anniversary of Douglas' birth.

Mr. Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, who is engaged in writing a biography of Douglas, said the crrespondence indicated that had the Illinois statesman been elected president in 1860 instead of Abraham Lincoln, the "Civil War would have been postponed, and possibly altogether averted."

Finding of the correspondence in an old box in a barn at the home of one of Douglas' grandsns, Robert Dick Douglas in Greensboro, N. C., was described by Mr. Milton as "certainly one of the two or three most important discoveries of source material for the history of America in the nineteenth century which has been made in recent years."

"In the past," said Mr. Milton, "much of our history of the twilight years immediately preceding the Civil War has been written from ultra-points of view. Either it has been a product of the New England school of histrians, with a consequent-over-emphasis upon the abolitionist attitude: or it has come from the counter-balancing extreme Southern school, devoting its energies with equal zeal and probably with equal truth to painting a picture of an United South, rushing to arms to champion certain gossomar theories of state sovereignty. * * *

"The Douglas letters reveal the existence of a strong union sentiment throughout the South, as late as April 15, 1861, and important figures from throughout the states of the new Confederacy kept writing Douglas in piteous appeal that he work out a plan of compromise which would maintain both the union and peace.

"A reading of Douglas' correspondence leads to the almost inescapable conclusion that the Civil War was an avoldable war, had only there been enough statesmanship North and South to do so."

TEXAS FLYER SHOWS EUROPE HOW TO COMMUTE IN RAPID FASHION; TWO RECORDS FALL

HESTON, Eng., April 23.—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, with two new speed records to his credit, climbed out of his red monoplane here this afternoon just 59 minutes after he had left Le Bourget airport, outside Paris.

He had covered the distance 37 minutes faster than any other man had ever flown it. Commander Glenn Kidson's record of 96 minutes from Le Bourget to Croydon was just another mark the Texan had knocked over.

In two days he has halved two important flying records, cutting the time to Rome to 5 hours and 20 minutes, and leaving European aviators in a daze over his mark for the channel crossing.

"Boy," he said with a wide grin after he had shaken hands all around, "those Alps make Rocky mountains look like little bumps. We pulled through all right, but I still don't know how."

He was talking about yesterday's flight to Rome during which he had to climb to 23,000 feet without an oxygen tank.

"I pulled up to 21,000" he said, "and I knew I had to go higher. With every foot I got dizzler and I couldn't move in the cockpit for fear of passing out.

"Down below all I could see through the fog was snow on the tops of mountains and crags. Over my head was nothing but thin air—mighty thin.

"I don't know how I made it but I got over and headed for Rome in a driving rain. To dodge the storm I hit for the Italian coast."

The small crowd which stood around listening to him bubbled with laughter when he began to tell about the return trip.

"I got off all right at Rome," he said, "and along about Pisa something went haywire in the fuel line. I came down to fix it. "I couldn't speak Italian and at the Pisa field thtre was nobody who could speak English. I tried to make them understand that I was all right, but they wanted 5 lire for a landing fee. I didn't have any lire and they didn't have any change for your English pound sterling. We had a lot of fun."

When the captain started out yesterday his idea was to have lunch in Rome and come back here for dinner last night with the Aero club, but his fuel ran out and he landed at Poilly-Les-Gien, about 85 miles south of Paris.

He stayed there over night and this morning hopped into Paris in 24 minutes. The French fliers at Le Bourget had just received word of his takeoff when he dropped down on the field.

He didn't make his one day round trip, but he's going to try again before he goes home.

The airline distance from Le Bourget to Heston is 229 miles. Hawk's 59-minutes flight covered the distance at a speed of close to 233 miles an hour.

D.A.R. STATEMENT OUTLINE POLICY OF SPEECH CENSORING

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—A statement outlining its policy of censorship as applied to speeches to be delivered before its annual congress was issued today by the Daughters of the American revolution.

The statement dealt particularly with changes made in a speech Representative Fish of New York will deliver before the congress tomorrow night, but it was explained by officials that there had been no deviation of policy in his case.

They added that the president had been the only official exempt from the policy of looking over speeches in advance.

The statement issued by Mrs. William Sherman Walker, chairman of national defense, said that "due to the fact that the reading public has too often interpreted the utterances of our speakers as being the expression of policy of the society," they requested certain changes in the speech, and Fish consented.

The material deleted from the Fish speech took exception to state department policies.

Meanwhile, members of the organization were choosing seven vice presidents general from ten candidates.

ROBBER IS KILLED BY CITIZENS WHEN STORE IS LOOTED

CADDO MILLS CITIZENS SURPRISE ROBBERS; BELIEVE OTHERS WOUNDED

GREENVILLE, April 23.—(AP)—Hunt county authorities today sought to identify a man about 40 years old who was shot and killed when members of a "vigilance committee" at Caddo Mills, seven miles southwest of Greenville, surprised five men robbing a store early today.

The man killed had a pair of woman's shoes in his pockets identified by A. Fagg as having been taken from the store. A gun was clinched in his hand. The man was about six feet tall, wore overalls, a sheep-skin lined coat and inside his had were the words "San Ann, Texas."

C. C. Bethea and Conrad Rethea, brothers and members of the protective band organized recently at Caddo Mills after numerous robberies, fired shots that killed the unidentified robber.

The night telephone operator at Caddo Mills observed the men when they came into town and after she saw them enter the Fagg store, quietly aroused members of the vigilance committee.

First to arrive were the Bethea brothers. After they saw the robber band included five men, two of whom were standing guard across the street from the store, they started to go for help but at that moment other members of the committee arrived at the other end of the street, one of whom started shouting, sausing the robbers to run.

When the men ran past the Betha brothers, they were ordered to halt but disregarded the command and the brothers opened fire. It was believed other members of the gang were wounded.

REPUBLICANS PLAN MEET CHALLENGE ON ECONOMIC ISSUES

PROHIBITION TO BE SIDETRACKED FOR DEFENSE OF TARIFF AND FARM BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—Republican leaders have formulated plans for taking into the farm states a campaign of economic instruction which will include a vigorous defense of the tariff and the farm board.

At a meeting of party leaders yesterday the ground work was laid upon which will be based the republican drive in the Middle West. Senator Dickinson of Iowa, who as chairman of the republican agricultue advisory council, will direct that phase of the campaign, described it as "economic rather than political."

There appeared to be a willingness to center the next presidential race on economic issues rother than prohibition.

Shortly after the meeting, Representative Cable, republican, Ohio, issued a statement praising the restrictive immigration stand of President Hoover whereas, he said, "congress fell down on the proposition."

"A year and a half ago," Cable said, "the leaders realized further restriction of immigration was imperative. The restrictionists in congress, however, could not agree on a bill so it was the President who indicated to the state department that further restriction for the protection of the workers of this nation was possible by enforcing the likely to become a public charge' provision of the law in the light of existing economic conditions."

Cable added that no other Presi-

Investigators Baffled Result Kidnaping Case

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—(AP)—Investigators today appeared to be without a single clew as to the whereabouts of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, Jr., wealthy and socially prominent St. Louis physician, who was kidnapped Monday night after being lured from his home by a telephone call summoning him to a fictitious sick bed.

Police continued their round-up of suspicius characters but held only slight hope any of the six men now under arrest would give any information of value.

Efforts to trace the abductors through finger prints on Dr. Kelley's car, found abandoned Tuesday in St. Louis county, continued today.

ATTEMPT CONNECT SUICIDE TO DEATH CALIFORNIA GIRL

DEAD MAN BORE SCRATCHES, AND KNOTS IN ROPES REPORTED SIMILAR

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—(AP)—Detectives sought today to learn whether there was a connection beween the death of Louise Teuber, whose unclothed body was found suspended from a tree near San Diego Sunday, and the apparent suicide of John Porcellano, 40.

Porcellano's body was found hanging from a tree in a cemetery ten miles south of San Francisco Tuesday night. No special significance was attached to his death until Mrs. Luella D. Pepper, San Mateo county coroner, discovered scratches on his hands and face and noted that the rope had been tied in a manner similar to that which had suspended the body of the 17-year-old girl.

Recalling that bits of flesh had been found under the girl's finger nails, indicating a struggle had preceded her death, Mrs. Pepper communicated with Southern California authorities and learned Porcellano had lived in San Diego.

Mrs. Pepper said the knots which Porcellana had used corresponded to one described as having been found in the line around the Teuber girl's neck.

Relatives said Porcellano was deeply interested in the occult and carried membership in a Southern California spiritualistic organization.

MEDICAL SCIENCE MAY AID MAN TO INCREASE SPAN OF LIFE TO TWO HUNDRED YEARS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor.)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—(AP)—Man's chance to live 200 years was discussed today at the opening of a three day session of the American Philosophical Soicety here.

He may expect soon, it was asserted, to add 10 more years so that the majority of us live to 70. Present medical science may later carry the average to 90, but beyond that lies a barrier—ignorance.

The beginnings of a knowledge that may lift even this barrier were described by Lee K. Frankel, second vice president of the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

"I am making a conservative statement," he said, "when I say that there is no evidence at this moment that human life may be prolonged beyond its presumed biologic limits. All the evidence indicates that man, like other animals, lives an allotted tme. All that has been done thus far has been to save the wastage of life at the younger ages.

"Yet we must remember that man differs from other animals in tha he is a reasoning being. Certain insects live a day. The elephant lives 200 years. These animals adapt themselves to their environment. Man has not only adapted himself to his environment, but in many instances has conquered it. How far this may go no one can tell.

"Certain significant researches in the recent past should be mentioned. They are at least suggestive."

Mr. Frankel summarized them as child's evidence that aging is most rapid in youth but slows down thereafter, Carrell's belief that a man's years bear "no definite relation to his real age," Crile's artificial and partly living cell, chicken hearts kept alive 20 years in glass dishes, this springs announcement at Johns Hopkins that rats fed on a diet free from mineral manganese lose affection for their young.

Nobody, he said, wants to live to be 200 if old age means merely senility. Whether it necessarily means that he predicted science will find out perhaps in the next 50 years by cutting the illness rate in two. Then perhaps man will face "a century of unimpaired usefulness," with a quick, happy ending.

TELEGRAM ORDERED SENT STERLING BY METHODIST WOMEN

PRESS IS CHARGED WITH SPREADING "UNRIGHTEOUS PROPAGANDA" IN MATTER

A resolution authorizing the secretary to send Governor Ross Sterling a telegram urging him to veto the Sunday moving picture show law, and taking a definite stand against such action of the state's governing body, was unanimously adopted at the Thursday morning meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society Central Texas conference in session at the First eMthodist church. Rev. J. M. Perry, Comanche pastor, charged "the state press" with spreading "unrighteous propaganda," in "insinuating that the law passed yesterday.' His remarks came as a result of one of the delegates stating she understood the bill became a law Wednesday.

Gatesville was unanimously selected at the 1932 conference city after telegrams were read from numerous city officials and organizations. The morning's principal address was given by Miss Lydia Ferguson, Brazil missionary, and the remainder of the time was spent with numerous reports, and completion of the election of officers.

Additional officers named include: Mrs. W. L. Perry, Waco, treasurer, re-elected; Mrs. Ben T. Merrit, Handley, superintendent of young people; Mrs. C. A. Boaz, Fort Worth, superintendent of study, re-elected; Mrs. S. J. Rucker, De Leon, superintendent of literature and publicity, re-elected; Mrs. F. P. Condemned Man Goes Through Final Routine

HUNTSVILLE, April 23.—(AP)—Moncus Twitty, 30, went through the routine of the condemned today. He is to be put to death in the state prison electric chair shortly after midnight for attacking a 3-year-old girl in Gray county.

He claimed he had not entirely given up hope for executive clemency. Governor Sterling, however, long since had declined to intervene, and the prison authorities went about the customary precautions.

The laws' other agencies, in addition to the governor, likewise had refused to believe Twitty was mentally unbalanced, the state pardon board considering him morally responsible for his act. The issue of insanity was settled adversely to Twitty in the trial.

BISHOP S. R. HAY HEARD WEDNESDAY NIGHT BY WOMEN

CENTRAL TEXAS MISSIONARY DELEGATES TOLD WORK MOST EFFECTIVE

Bishop Sam R. Hay, Houston, told the Wednesday night session of the twenty-first annual meeting Woman's Missionary Society, Central Texas conference, in the auditorium of the First Methodist church that the best missionary work being done in the Orient is that being sponsored by the Woman's Council. Special music for the occasion was furnished by the church choir, and Mrs. C. A. Boaz, of Fort Worth, concluded the program with an impressive vocal solo.

Dr. Caspar S. Wright, presiding elder of the Corsicana district, conducted the devotional service, and introduced the speaker. A musical prelude by Miss Mabell Boaz, Fort Worth, opened the evening service, and was followed by several songs led by Mrs. Boaz. The opening prayer was given by Dr. Wright.

A well received vocal solo by Edward F. Hearne, choir director, was the first special musical number, and was followed by an anthem by the choir.

The bishop was introduced, and read portions of the fifth chapter of Matthew, and called special attention to the verses: "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." On

Believe Jealousy Cause Two Deaths

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., April 23.—(AP)—Apparently motivated by jealousy, Don Hurtado, 21 shot and killed Mrs. Elva Salazar, 20, here last night and then committed suicide.

Hurtado ran from Mrs. Salazar's house after slaying her, and shot himself in the head. His body was found two hours later in the railroad yards.

Mrs. Salazar, mother of two young children, was estranged from her husband and, authorities said, had been friendly with Hurtado. Her efforts to end the friendship were believed by investigators to have prompted him to slay her.

NEW CAMPAIGN OF EXTERMINATION IS STARTED ON KULAKS

SOVIET GOVERNMENT SEEKS END OF LAND OWNING PEASANT CLASS

MOSCOW, April 23.—(AP)—A new campaign of extermination against the Kulaks, or land owning peasants, is being planned by the Soviet Union.

Under its provisions, the hated Kulak will be branded openly as an enemy of the communistic government, compelled to register with and report his movements to police wherever he may go, and relegated to unimportant work to earn his bread.

Details of the new scheme published in Izvestia, official organ of the central executive committee of the Soviet Union, reveals its wide scope, which, banning the class from government jobs, will force them to resort to manual labor or cease to exist.

The Kulak's crime is that he once owned lands, and sometimes a horse or cow, with which he maintained himself and his family. He resented the collectives, which took these holdings away from him, and put him on an equal footing with those who owned nothing at all.

It is estimated there are still 3,000,000 Kulaks in Russia, not including the number who have been banished to the Arctic regions where they live in lumber camps on a "no work, no food" basis. Many of them have been shot on conviction of counter-revolutionary activities.

COAST PUBLISHER ARRESTED FEDERAL CHARGE, IN JAIL

CLARA BOW'S 'BOY FRIEND' REVEALS ATTEMPTED EXTORTION PLOT

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—(AP)—Arrested on federal indictment charging him with sending obscene articles about Clara Bow through the mails, Fred H. Girnau, weekly newspaper publisher, was held in the county jail today in default of $10,000 bail.

Rex Bell, the actress' "boy friend," tld officers two men known to him only as Jordan and Rockwell, prior to publication of the articles had presented a plan to him whereby the stories could have been suppressed. Bell said Jordan and Rockwell had suggested that Girnau's paper, the Cost Reporter, could be bought for $15,000 and that if given $25,000 they would buy it and keep the remaining $10,000 for themselves.

The articles about Miss Bow ran in four issues and were preceded by publication of a purpoorted affidavit bearing the signature of Daisy Devoe, saying she had agreed to give Girnau a "true and honest story."

Miss DeVoe, who was convicted of stealing an $825 coat from the actress, denied through her attorney she had made an affidavit in writing to Girnau, although she said she had given him legal authority to publish a story of her life with Clara Bow.

Miss DeVoe was given 18 months probationary jail sentence and is now at liberty under bond pending action on her appeal.

REPRESENTATIVES PREPARE DATA FOR APPROPRIATIONS

VISIT HELIUM PLANT AT AMARILLO; FUNDS MUST BE MERITED THEY ASSERT

AMARILLO, April 23.—(AP)—After making an inspection of the United States helium plant last night, the appropriations sub-committee of the house of representatives headed by Rep. Frank Murphy of Ohio, chairman, left early today to visit New Mexico park sites, including Calsbad Caverns.

Although the committee is not directly interested in appropriations for the helium plant, the legislators expressed a personal interest in the manufacture of helium, and accompanied Congressman Jones of Amarillo and a large welcoming party on a visit to the plant. They were directed through the plant by C. W. Seibel, superintendent of the helium division of the bureau of mines.

"We are spending four months of our vacation period visiting projects for which we will recommend appropriations in the next congress," Mr. Murphy said. "The next congress will differ from all others because there will be an equal division of power, and claims for appropriations must have merit. We are seeing everything we can in order that we may more wisely recommend."

Mr. Murphy and his party left Washington a week ago primarily to visit Indian reservations and park sites.

Their itinerary will not permit them to remain over today for an inspection of the Palo Duro canyon park site, although they conferred with officials of the park association last night.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our senior elder John H. Clark; and whereas, the First Presbyterian church of Streetman, Texas, has suffered a great loss in the death of Bro. Clark.

Therefore, be it Resolved: That while we bow in humble submission to the will of God, yet as an expression of our sorrow over the loss we have sustained, we place upon the pages of our sessional record this testimony of regret that our brother cannot meet with us in our official deliberations.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved family by handing them this resolution after it has been copied in our official record.

Resolved, Tha we commend the sorrowing ones to our heavenly Father, who tenderly cares for His children, and knows how to give joy and gladness for sorrow and sighing. Adopted by the session of the Presbyterian Church of Streetman, Texas, April 5, 1931.

MARINES SENT OUT CATCH SANDINO STILL INTERESTED IN REPORTS U. S. BASEBALL

By JAMES FOSTER.

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP)— The marines of Nicaragua may have an assignment to catch Augustino Sandino, but this hasn't lessened their interest in the news from back home, especially the daily baseball scores.

Direct communication with radio station NNINIC, two miles south of Managua, Nicaragua, recently wrecked by an earthquake, was maintained last night by Fred H. Schnell, amateur radio operator from his home. He gave the Associated Press the privilege of a direct interview with one of three operators in the marine corps who have been handling official communications since the earthquake wrecked all other lines of communication.

This operator, Adam G. Hileman of Anna, Ill., is stationed in the aviation unit of the marine south of Managua and talked with only the light of a candle to guide him.

Relating to the bandit leader, Sandino, Hileman says:

"No one knows for sure of his whereabouts. He works with two or three lieutenants, each of whom is in charge of a large group, and each group spreads as a unit, making guerrila attacks and salvage forays. The only way they will get Sandino is to accidentally bump into him.

"He has just as many spies, if not more, than we have.

"Just now everything is fairly quiet at Puerto Cabezas. Ships are standing by to take off more Americans if necessary.

"The Nacionale Guardia is in command of marine corps officers and we are keeping track of each unit of the guard. The two aircraft squadrons and the second brigade of marines are here now. The marines and gurdsmen have parties in all large cities of Nicaragua, and about 235 men are left in the hills, but they will return here by May 1.

"We have an average of two earthquakes a night, but these are minor shocks."

Operator Hileman was interrupted several times, and once returned to report an airplane accident at Ocotal at 8:30 p. m.

The marine operator was given a summary of the days' news, the baseball scores, and other information he requested.

PRESIDENTIAL LUNCHEON IS SERVED MEAT COST LESS THAN TWENTY-FOUR CENTS A PLATE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—A twenty-five-cent piece with the edges shaved off covered the cost of a luncheon cooked today for President Hoover.

The meal for a party of eight, prepared in honor of President and Mrs. Hoover, cost $1.89, or 23.6 cents for the presidential plate.

The Girl Scouts little house, quaint green-shuttered white house neighbor erected to typify the more modest American home, was scene of the thrifty luncheon

The menu was:

Split pea soup 18 cents; Melba toast 5 cents; meat and rice 40 cents; brown sauce 3 cents; baked potatoes 9 cents; cabbage, lettuce and carrot salad 29 cents; butter, table and cooking 18 cents, lemon bread pudding 30 cents; lemon sugar milk for tea 8 cents, whole wheat muffins 21 cents. Even the dash of salt and pepper and the few slivers of onion in the meat loaf were computed.

Dainty indeed was the meal's appearance.

The service followed approved white house etiquette. Louis Erk, tall girl scout, daughter of Representative Erk of Pennsylvania, had been instructed to serve the president first with Shirley Schafer, small girl scout daughter of Representative Schafer of Wisconsin, waiting to place the food before Mrs. Hoover just a second later.

The primary purpose of the low cost meal was the launching of better homes week. But there entered also the thought of a menu appropriate for an average American home whose income may, perhaps, have been slightly impaired in the general depression.

The bureau of home economics and the president's emergency committee for employment worked out the menu. Girl Scouts cooked it.

The president's place was at the head of the table in the biggest chair in the Girl Scout little house.

Johnny Baker, Foster Son of Buffalo Bill, Is Dead in Colorado

DENVER, Colo., April 23.—(AP)—Johnny Baker is dead. To men who like the crack of a rifle or the flush of a sunset from Lookout Mountain, that will mean a lot.

Johnny Baker, 62, was the foster son of the old plainsman, Buffalo Bill, whose real name was William F. Cody. For many years after Buffalo Bill's death, Baker operated a sightseer's tepee within a stone's throw of the Indian fighter's grave on the top of a mountain only a few miles west of Denver.

Once acclaimed as the world's champion rifle shot, Johnny Baker's hero worship for the fighter, buffalo hunter and showman never wavered.

POLICE CAPTAINS OF CHICAGO FOUND HAVE MUCH MONEY

TWELVE OF FIRST SEVENTEEN CLAIMED HAVE EXCESSIVE BANK ACCOUNTS

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP)—A definite announcement was made public by prosecutors today that twelve of the first seventeen police captains whose finances are under investigation by a special grand jury, have been found to have excessive banks accounts.

The announcement was made by Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles J. Lounsbury, and J. A. Farmar, foreman of the special grand jury which is investigating alleged corruption in the police department.

Although these officials refused to reveal in detail the findings of the jurors, they did not mention that one captain was found to have been engaged in manipulations amounting to more than $100,000. He had accounts, it was announced in six banks and had engaged in extensive stock market operations. The names of the captains would be witheld, the officials said, until they have had opportunity to show whether they got their money legitimately.

"We do not claim," said Mueller, "that every captain who has a small fortune obtained it through dishonesty. No doubt some of the captains will be able to show that they made money through shrewd business investments or by private business enterprises in which they are interested."

"When I was just a girl at home," writes Mrs. B. F. Riggan, of Baird, Texas, "I took Cardui for cramping and pains in my side and back, and it helped me at that time.

"After I was married, I found myself in a weak, run-down condition. I suffered a great deal with my back, which was so weak it hurt me to get up or when I would stand on my feet. I fell off in weight.

"A friend of mine, seeing how bad I felt, advised me to take Cardui, which I did. By the time I had taken two bottles, I felt stronger and better than I had in a long time."

PUBLIC NOTICE!

Montgomery Ward & Co. has filed a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission against Unfair Tire Advertising

Newspaper and magazine advertisements are being published throughout the country in which nationally advertised tires are compared with a "mail order" tire. . . . We have been asked if the "mail order" tire referred to is our RIVERSIDE. The reason for this is obvious. Ward's is the oldest mail order house in America. So, when anyone says "mail order," most people naturally think first of Montgomery Ward & Co. No! the tire referred to is not Ward's Riverside!

COMPARE

Here are some leading makes of tires that are similar in quality to our 4-ply Riversides and the published list prices:

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES (4-ply)	Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Goodyear All Weather Goodrich Silvertown
29x4 40/21	$4.95	$ 7 05
30x4 50/21	5.69	7 85
28x4 75/19	6.68	8.55
29x5 00/19	7.00	9 15
30x5 00/20	7.10	9 40
28x5 25/18	7.90	10.35

29x5 50/19	8.90	12 00
30x5 50/20	9.00	12 50

Here are some leading makes that compare with our 6-ply Riversides — and the published list prices:

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES Heavy Duty (6-ply)	Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Heavy Duty Goodyear All Weather Heavy Duty Goodrich Silvertown (6-ply)
29x4 40/21	$ 7.15	$10 10

RIVERSIDES

Are Equal to or Better Than ANY Tires Made Regardless of Name or Price!

Montgomery Ward & Co. is one of the largest distributors of automobile tires in the world. And for 19 years, Riversides have been one of the best known tires in the industry. Millions have been sold. They are made by one of the largest rubber companies in America. They are built to the most rigid tire specifications known. They are the finest quality it is possible to produce. They are backed by the fairest, squarest guarantee ever written, and they sell for less than other nationally known tires of equal quality. These sound like extraordinary claims. But they are facts. And Montgomery Ward & Co. stands behind every word.

The big tire companies have found it impossible to meet Riverside quality at Riverside prices—so most of them now sell what are known as "second quality" tires at the same prices as we charge for Riversides, a first-quality tire! Furthermore, a recent check disclosed that nearly 90% of all the newspaper advertising of the leading tire companies is being devoted to their second quality tires. Why? Evidently to confuse the reader. The reader notes that the prices are the same as Riversides, and assumes that the quality is the same. But the nationally advertised tires offered at Riverside prices are not equal to Riversides in quality. Always compare QUALITIES as well as PRICES. The table at the left lists some of the best-known first-quality tires that do compare with Riversides in quality—YOU compare the prices!

CORSICANA, TEX., APR. 24, 1931.

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY.

The tremendous influence of petroleum on the economic condition, buying power and general development of the Gulf Southwest region of the United States is revealed in a comprehensive survey of this industry made by the Department of Commerce and made public today by the Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Petroleum production in the Gulf Southwest states of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas offered a pri- and Texas affered a primary market for industrial goods of approximately $20,000,000 in 1929 for drilling operations alone and the products of refineries in this area were sold for more than $800,000,000 at the refinery, according to estimates resulting from this survey.

The purpose of the study was to determine the economic position of the petroleum industry in this region as it affects business development, income, buying power, and the location of market for goods. The report was prepared by the Domestic Regional Division as part of its program of regional surveys of principal industries. The Bureau of Mines and the Minerals Division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce co-operated in its preparation. Many of the related factors, such as the increased cost of prospecting for oil, the excess refinery capacity, the problems of marketing the refined products, and the changing location of the principal markets for the products of southwestern refineries are discussed in detail.

The development of new producing territories, the report states, has greatly affected the concentration of population, nearly half of the entire population increase in this area during the past decade having occurred in eighty-eight oil producing counties. The opening of new producing areas has necessitated the expansion of transportation and communication facilities, required changes in banking, increased the value of property, and opened up new avenues of wholesale and retail distribution for luxuries as well as necessities.

The importance of oil and gas output in the gross income of the area is partially shown by the fact that the Gulf Southwest produces approximately 65 per cent of the crude oil, 60 per cent of the natural gas, and 55 per cent of the natural gasoline produced in this country, and 39 per cent of the world production of crude petroleum.

With 14,000 wells completed in 1929 at an estimated cost of $374,000,000 the cost of oil discovery has quadrupled in the past decade in this area, a trend, the report states, which is only partially offset by the enormous production of some of the new wells. The cost of drilling a well in 1928, as a result of the greater depths to which they are drilled and the increasing percentage of dry holes, is estimated to have amounted to as much as the cost to drill 14 holes in 1912. Dry holes alone, in 1928, are estimated to have cost nearly $92,000,000.

The refinery capacity in 1930 was two and one-half times as great as in 1919 with present capacity of the refineries in that area in excess of 1,500,000 barrels daily. Such capacity along the Gulf Coast increased 245 per cent during this period compared with 113 per cent for the rest of the area.

The growth in refining capacity has greatly outstripped the increase in available markets, the report points out, and with the increased production of refined products competition between the refineries has increased proportionately. On January 1, 1930 the excess capacity in this region was 365,271 barrels of crude oil a day, over and above the average amount actually run through the refineries daily in the previous 12 months. This 24.9 per cent excess capacity does not include the plants shut down and building, which represent a daily capacity for refining an additional 95,430 barrels.

As a result of the greatly increased cracking capacity, the production of gasoline was found to have advanced even more rapidly than the amount of crude oil consumed, the percentage increase being 366 since 1919. This compares with a similar increase in gasoline output for the rest of the country of 357 per cent. The market for the excess production of southwestern refineries is shown to have been greatly limited by the development of other districts during the past ten years. While estimates show that plants in this area had a capacity of 54,000,000 barrels of gasoline in excess of the demand in that area in 1921, the rest of the country had a total excess capacity of only 15,000,000 barrels, and the territories contigious to the Gulf Southwest had an excess demand of 32,000,000 barrels, large enough to absorb a considerable portion of the Gulf Southwest surplus. By 1929, the report reveals, the total gasoline capacity in the southwestern area had increased to such an extent that refineries had an excess capacity, even over the iscreased demand in that area, of at least 153,000,000 barrels while the excess demand of the contigious territories, much of it supplied from other sources, was 47,000,000 barrels.

The report is arranged in such a way that the growth, present status, and trends of the industries in the area may be appraised by persons interested in the Gulf Southwest as a market, as a possible location for a new industry, or as a region offering opportunity in the petroleum industry itself. Attempts being made in this region to reduce the wasteful methods which have developed in the marketing of refined products are outlined and the methods used in marketing these products are discussed as they relate to marketing by the refiner, the wholesaler, and the retailer.

JUST FOLKS

IN THE GADEN.

His garden was lovely, with blom it was gay
And aglow with the sipendor and glory of May
As we strolled there I noticed some petals aflame
Which were strangers to me, so I asked hi mtheir name,
And he said: "I can't tell you, but wait! I suppose
The chap that I hired for a gardener knows."
"Hey, Bill!" he called out, "what is this growing here?
Is it new or a thing which we planted last year?"
Then I fancied I caught in the gardener's eye
A look of disgust as he turned to reply,
As if he thought owners of gardens should know
The names of the blossoms they are trying to grow.
Perhaps fearing more questions the millioraire said:
"Come on! Follow us around and explain every bed."
Which he did, hat in hand, in a manner polite,
Very frequently setting his master aright,
But I'm sure at the end when I bade them goodbye
I picked up a wink in that gardener's eye!

CHILD HEALTH PLANS

Dr. H. N. Barnett, director the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the state board of health, and State May Day chairman, states that plans are going forward rapidly for what probably will be the most outstanding May Day—National Child Health Day—ever observed in Texas. In general the program will support the keynote endorsed by the May Day committee of the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America at their conference last December. At this time the committee voted to emphasize "Community Responsibility and Co-operation for Child Health and Protection" and to support the findings of the White House conference. The committee also urged the support of full-time community health service in co-operation with the medical and dental professions, and further recommended that special emphasis be placed on the needs of the infant and preschool child and that an adequate school health program be adapted to meet the needs of each community.

The Texas representative of the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America is Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, Austin.

"Last year," according to Dr. Barnett's May Day report, "thirteen county public health nurses, located in different sections of Texas, gave some report of a May Day program, as rendered in counties having an organized public health nursing service. In addition to these programs hundreds of suggested programs for May Day were distributed to parent-teacher groups, civic clubs, schools and individuals, located in counties having no definitely organized health service.

"In Gregg County May Day—National Child Health Day—was celebrated for the benefit of infants and pre-school children on the court house lawn. More than 300 children took part in the parade, which brought more than one thousand people to the streets, and, as many rural communities took part, the health committee feels that this demonstration secured a great deal of publicity."

In Dallas last year a three-day child health conference was held which was sponsored by the pre-school section of the Dallas Council of Parents and Teachers. In addition to clinic service for children, there were addresses and discussions.

In Houston, representatives of civic organizations met for the purpose of discussing Better Methods of Handling Problems in Child Welfare Work. This meeting was sponsored by ten American Legion posts and their auxiliaries.

"Recent reports from the public health nurses of Texas," said Dr. Barnett, "show better than anything else the need for full-time public health units and the need to stress immunization and vaccination. Many of the nurses write of tragedies that would not have happened if we had been in a position to give vaccines and toxin-antitoxin. Hundreds of communities are not observing even the elementary principles of hygiene. We have a tremendous educational job ahead of us."

Texas is one of the twenty-three states in which a state child health council has been organized. Officers of the Texas Child Health Council are: Dr. H. H. Barnett, chairman, Austin, Texas; Mrs. E. V. DePew, vice-chairman, San Antonio, Texas.

GONE IS THE PARLOR.

Somebody has waked up all at once to the fact that the old parlor is gone. And the queer thing about it is that nobody seems to have seen it go or going. Yesterday it was the core, the heart, the arcanum, the central sanctum sanctorum of every full-fledged house. Today it is no more. Along with the old room of state, the company headquarters where the company put its best foot forward and stood the horsehair furniture around in every solemn posture of the very primmest propriety, there was the drawing room, too. A parlor and drawing room together lifted any house fortunate enough to possess them clear out of the common and gave them caste and rank and glory. If so much architectural grandeur were still further buttressed in relief by a sitting room and perhaps a first-floor den, there was nothing more needed of mortal distinction.

And now, complain certain elderly romancers, dreaming of times past, parlor and drawing room have gone out and nobody saw them go. Of course, the explanation is very simple. In all the old houses where parlor and drawing room layout remains the same, a new fashion of use and enjoyment has swept in and obliterated the old boundaries. Families gradually got to living all over the house instead of parking in certain restricted parts of it and barring the rest from use except on certain state occasions. In new houses the parlor was simply forgotten and every room made for daily use.

In the beginning the parlor was intended for use. It was the part of the house where the family was to have its private life and pleasure and comfort, safe from every intrusion. Nobody has ever told just how it got away from that simple intention and became the formidable and formal and stuffy and forbidding thing it came to be. In these latter days it has succumbed for the very good reason that houses have shrunk to the actual necessities, and the old-time spaciousness ministering to pride has been outlawed by that master economist known as H. C. L.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

The scarcity of country doctors as a subject of popular interest is matching the scarcity of teachers in the rural districts which has been partially met by consolidations. The country doctor is stronger in tradition than the country teacher and his disappearance even by rumor is disturbing. In the generation represented by the grandparents of today the country doctor was one of the greattest American institutions. He carried his supply of crude drugs in his saddle bags and an inexhaustible sunshine in his face and his cheery words. Whatever he may have lacked of scientific attainment he compensated for in that rare atmosphere of fraternal cheerfulness which no country doctor was without.

Patients improved when they heard his horse's hoofs on the road. All the people for miles around were as members of one big family so far as the doctor was concerned. As towns grew the young doctors chose to display their skill there, some because the life was less laborious, some because they believed rewards better. The country doctor of today is at the disappearing point, largely because of his considertion for wife and children. He says frankly cash returns are often satisfactory, but that he wants better conditions for wife and family than he finds in the country.

Ellis, 34, a brother, is in the P. and S. Hospital in a serious condition from burns received at the time.

The victims were rushed to Corsicana as soon as possible.

PLAN MAKES OLD T. AND B. V. LINE NORTH-SOUTH ARTERY

THREE RAILROADS OPEN NEW ROUTE FROM DALLAS TO HOUSTON-GALVESTON

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today approved a plan of three railroads operating in Texas under which a new route will be opened from Dallas to Houston and Galveston.

The commission authorized the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway company, a subsidiary of the Colorado & Southern, and the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf, a subsidiary of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, to acquire trackage rights over the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway of Texas from Dallas to Waxahachie and the Fort Worth & Denver City and the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf to lease the line of the Burlington Rock Island railroad jointly owned by the Colorado & Southern and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific from Waxahachie to Teague, Texas.

The arrangements covers 92 miles of railroad and gives the roads a direct route from Dallas to Houston and with an authorized extension of the Burlington Rock Island to Galveston will form a straight line to that port.

Heretofore the Fort Worth & Denver City and the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf have connecte dwith the Burlington Rock Island at Fort Worth.

In the same order, the commission authorized the Burlington Rock Island to abandon operation under trackage rights over the Houston and Texas Central from Waxahachie to Fort Worth, a distance of 40 miles. This operation became unnecesasry with authorization of the direct route.

"The plan," says the commission, "contemplates in effect an extension of the joint applicants' lines from Dallas to Teague where direct connection will be made with the affiliated Burlington Rock Island. At present the connection is at Fort Worth.

"A new route will be opened for the movement of export and coastwise traffic to Houston and with the extension of the Burlington Rock Island to Galveston, Texas, authorized by us, an additional gulf port will be reached. The arrangement promises expeditious transportation between the gulf and points north and west reached by the Fort Worth & Denver City and the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf and their connections.

Single Line Rates

"The intention is to establish single line rates between points on the line of the joint applicants and points on the Burlington Rock Island south of Teague. It is claimed that a public need will be served and that economy in operation as a whole will be effected.

"By increased traffic accruing to the Burlington Rock Island that carrier is expected to benefit materially and may be placed upon a paying basis.

"The trackage contract and the lease submitted representing the results of extended negotiations between the parties are deemed by the applicants to the equitable and fair. The joint applicants will handle no local traffic on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas line between Dallas and Waxahachie, this being a bridge line with respect to the joint applicants' business. A very large part of the traffic to be moved will be through business."

Tornado Wrecks Houses Quake Was Unable to Damage

ANCONA, Italy, April 23.—(AP)—A ten-minute tornado today wrecked three earthquake proof houses which had survived the devastating July and October tremars and unroofed many houses after flooding the town with rain.

A score of persons were slightly injured and three others more gravely hurt. The wind blew a hundred yard wide path through the old quarter of the town which suffered badly in the quake but in other sections the population was hardly aware of its violence.

Truck Bill Postponed.

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—Illness of Senator Woodward of Coleman, one of the senates leaders on truck regulatin, was given today as cause for postponement of consideration of pending truck regulatory bills by the senate. It was agreed that the bills could be called up at any time.

Legislature Still Facing Perplexities

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—The perplexing truck control problem was still before the senate today while the house hoped to dispose of several more senate bills.

With one tax bill, the cigaret levy, enacted into law yesterday through the governor's signature, the senate state affairs committee last night took action which seemed to threaten the life of the tax on natural gas distributors.

It set the bill for hearing May 6, which is only six dys before the legislature is scheduled to adjourn, leaving little time for the senate to act on the bill and for the house to concur in any amendments. The house passed the bill Monday. It would revise the occupation taxes and place a tax of two cents a thousand cubic feet on gas distributing companies.

The senate state affairs committee reported favorably the house bill by Petsch of Fredericksburg to curb the reckless issuance of country warrants. Except in cases of calamity, warrants could be issued only through vote of the people.

Some legislators expressed the view that passage of other revenue-raising bills was unnecesasry as a result of the governor approving the cigaret tax of three cents a package. The bill also contained a tax of two per cent on the gross production of natural gas.

To Raise $5,500,000

Proponents estimated the combined cigaret-natural gas tax would raise about $5,500,000 annually. The tax will become effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns or about August 10.

The legislature yesterday put the question of repealing the anti-Sunday movie law up to Governor Sterling. The house passed the repeal bill 86 to 42 and the senate had approved it. The bill asked that cities desiring Sunday shows be permitted to have them.

The congressional redistricting free conference committee planned to hold its first meeting tonight. Among the provisions in the bills which have been protested is that placing Congressman J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, ranking democrat on the rivers and harbors committee and Representative Clay Stone Briggs of Galveston in the same district. Galveston residents were here to object to that rearrangement.

Senate Refuses Concur

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—The senate today refused to concur in house amendments to the senate eleemosynary appropriation bill. Senators Beck of DeKalb, Hornsby of Austin, Purl of Dallas, O'Neal of Wichita Falls and Woodruff of Decatur were named as senate free conferees.

The house yesterday substituted the $10,104,298 house finance committee bill for the $11,505,660 senate bill.

Proclaims Tick Quarantine

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—Governor Sterling today issued a proclamation placing portions of Brazoria, Fort Bend, Harris and Galveston counties under tick quarantine regulations of the livestock sanitary commission.

The commission ascertained the territory was infested with and exposed to the fever carrying tick. It therefore was designated for the purpose of beginning and prosecuting systematic tick eradication which would continue until the area was free of ticks.

The order would become effective May 11.

Conservation Week

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—The house today concurred in a senate resolution designating the second week in January of each year as soil and water conservation week. The resolution would have the governor designate the time by proclamation.

To Employ Geologist

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—A bill by Senator Moore of Greenville, empowering the board of regents of the University of Texas to employ a geologist to survey all University of Texas lands was passed by the house today. It was passed by the senate last week.

The house also passed a bill by Senator Hornsby of Austin proposing establishment by the commissioner of agriculture of tolerances and specifications for criminal weighing and measuring devices in Texas.

Another bill, by Senators Martin of Hillsboro and Russek of Schulenburg, proposing enactment of statutes to prohibit fraudulent operation of use of vending machines, coin box telephones and slot machines, was passed. It would provide for prosecution of persons using slugs or counterfeit coins in such machines.

Stream Pollution May Draw Charges Kilgore Operators

LONGVIEW, April 23.—(AP)—J. W. Brice, deputy game warden of the state game, fish and oyster commission, today was expected to bring criminal charges against oil producers in the Kilgore area for allowing waste oil to pollute waters of Rabbit creek and the Sabine river.

Brice said yesterday he had found oil in great quantities floating on the streams.

"Besides killing off fish," said Brice, "it is likely to prove dangerous to livestock allowed to drink from the streams."

The deputy warden said willful violation of the statute made an offender liable to a fine ranging from $1,000 to $10,000.

Senate Concurred in Amendment to Bill

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—The senate today concurred in a corrective measure offered by the house to a bill by Senator Rawlings of Fort Worth proposing to make accomplices to incendiarists liable to punishment under the arson statutes of the state.

Senator Rawlings said the house amendment merely clarified wordage in the bill. The bill will go next to the governor

TRINITY RIVER CANAL DISTRICT BILL IS PASSED

FAILS TO GAIN LARGE ENOUGH MARGIN FOR IMMEDIATE APPLICATION

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—The house today passed the bill to establish the Trinity river conservancy and reclamation district.

The vote was 78 to 44. The bill did not receive enough votes to go into immediate effect and will not become effective if passed by the senate and approved by the governor, until 90 days after adjournment.

Representatives of Dallas and Tarrant counties, the only two districts affected, however, said this would be time enough for a vote to be taken in the fall on the continuance of dissolution of the district.

The bill would levy tax of two cents per $100 valuation on property in Metropolitan Dallas and Fort Worth and a small strip along the Trinity river between the two cities to raise funds to pay for preliminary surveys.

If the surveys show the project is practical, efforts would be made to interest the federal government. Total estimates cost of the project was $40,000,000.

Sponsors in the house expressed confidence the bill would be passed by the senate.

A bitter attack was made on it by Representative Graves of Georgetown, who termed it one of the "most monstrous things ever written on the statute books."

Speaking for the bill, Representative Killer of Dallas claimed completion of the canal would materially increase taxable values in Fort Worth and Dallas and along the river and in so doing would increase the amount of state taxes paid by these two cities. He also claimed the canal would result in enormous savings of freight rates that would be of benefit to the state.

Say Railroads Opposed

Representative Lockhart of Lubbock charged that all the opposition to the bill had been engendered by the railroad companies because they knew the canal completion would decrease rail revenues.

Opposing the bill, Representative Cunningham of Eastland expressed fear the canal would increase rail freight rates because of the revenue the railroad would lose which would have to be made up on other commodities.

Representative Holder quoted a letter from Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo in which Jones gave his support to the project, claiming it would reduce wheat rates three cents per bushel from the West Texas area, enabling growers to meet the competition from the North, made keen by the cheap rates on the Mississippi river.

The canal would extend from Fort Worth to Anahuac in Chambers county. Here it would conect with the federal intercoastal canal.

House Invites Robinson.

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—The house today invited United States Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, to address the Texas legislature No date was set.

Charges Many Telegrams Forged

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—Charges that he had received numerous forged telegrams urging him to support or not to support certain bills were made today by Representative Keller of Dallas, who said he was considering asking the Dallas county grand jury to investigate.

Keller said he had received hundreds of telegrams on the cigarette tax bill and the Trinity river conservancy district bill.

"I'm sick and tired of getting these forged telegrams. I am going to ask for an official investigation and see if I can get some one indicated for it," Kelelr said.

First Proration in Effect on Thursday; Other Fields Soon

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—The order placing the first curb on East Texas oil production became effective today, R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission said.

Parker said umpires told him yesterday they were ready to institute proration in the Longview and Kilgore areas. Figures on potentials in the Henderson area probably will not be completed for two or three days but Parker said he had been informed operators were ready to go ahead with proration there under a temporary schedule.

FULL PAYMENT OF VETERANS WILL BE ADVOCATED AGAIN

REPRESENTATIVE PATMAN OF TEXAS SAYS WILL INTRODUCE BILL

DALLAS, April 23.—(AP)—Congressman Wright Patman of Texarkana, democrat, announced today here he would introduce a bill at the December session of congress under which full payment of veterans' adjusted compensation certificates would be made immediately.

"Patman said he had received assurance from other members of coongress of enought votes to pass his bill. He was one of the sponsors of the bill passed at last session under which world war veterans are permitted to borrow up to 50 per cent of the face value of their cerificates, a measure now being carried out. This measure was a compromise from Patman's original bill providing for payment of the certificates in full."

Congressman Patman came to Dallas ot greet Ralph T. O'Neil, of Topeka, Kans, national commander of the American Legion, who made his first stop here today on an inspection tour of Legion departments in the Southwest.

O'Neil said the question of supporting Patmans' bill would be put up to the national convention of he Legion in Deroit next September. He declined to express an opinion about the bill or to predict what action, if any, the Legion would take regarding it. The Legion supported the legislation under which present payments are being made.

Patman estimated it would take approximately $1,500,000,000 to pay the certificates in full, in addition to a like sum now being paid out in the 50 per cent loans on the certificates.

He took the position that in paying he full amount of the certificates, congress would be only turning over to veterans "money which is now theirs."

"There was no effort to hold back the $100,000,000 the government refunded the United States Steel Corporation in taxes," said Patman. "There was none to hold back the $1,500,000,000 the government paid the railroads after the war, nor the billions which went to foreign governments. Those amounts were paid in full without delay."

Patman declared Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's deflation policy, as head of the federal reserve board, was primarily responsible for the recent financial crisis.

DALLAS REGAINS TEXAS LOOP LEAD WITH WIN OVER FORT WORTH

BEAUMONT SHARES HONORS WITH CAT CREWS; BUFFS WIN

TEX CARLETON BLANKS INDIANS; SHIPPERS NOSE OUT BUCCANEERS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The first crucial series of the 1931 Texas league pennant race has past, and still on top are the Dallas Steers. Still second are the Fort Worth Cats, but this time in a tie with Beaumont. After losing the first of their important series to the Cats ot Fort Worth, 10 to 6, the Steers Wednesday cooled the Cats, 5 to 3. Big George Murray was in great pitching form after the second inning. When he beat the Cats Wednesday, it made his second straight win since the league race started.

Henry Hardaway started for the Cats, but he started without control and did not last long. Hardaway walked the first four batters to face him, forcing in the first Dallas run. Leon Chagnon relieved Hardaway and was greeted by a double from Langford's bat which sent three runs across the plate. Harrell followed Langford with a drive into rightfield to score Langford and round out the five run rally.

No. 8 For Sports.

Wednesday brought another defeat to the Shreveport Sports. Wichita Falls got enough good hurling from Howard Taylor, right hander, to beat the Sports for the third straight time. A wild eighh inning in which the Spudders counted four runs gave them a 7 to 3 decision.

At Beaumont, the exporters and Galveston Buccaneers put on a real show with the Exporters taking the last curtain call, 8 to 7. Galveston was coasting in with a 7 to 3 lead until the eighth inning when the Exporters uncorked a batting spree that netted them four runs to tie the score. Doubles by White and Mallett aided in the four run stampede, the Exporters broke the 7-all deadlock and won the game in the last of the tenth inning on a trio of scratch hits plus Molesworth's low throw to home plate trying to cut off the winning run.

Going back to their flood lights, Houton scored a 5 to 0 verdict over San Antonio at Houston. Carelton was in superb pitching form, stopping the Indians with four hits. Although he allowed nine hits, Smith pitched a splendid game for San Antonio but received erratic support.

Winter Tour "Big Shots"

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THE annual Winter tour of America's leading professional golfers clearly established the veteran Gene Sarazen as the most likely to succeed Bobby Jones as the world's greatest linksman provided he can keep his game at top for another six months or more. Gene shot the recent La Gorce open into the other prizes in his golf money bag. He has been displaying such excellent form through most tournaments since last December that, at present, he's a standout overshadowing Tommy Armour, MacDonald Smith, Al Espinosa, Johnny Golden and other topnotch pros.

Walter Hagen is still in the doldrums after his sad 1930 fade-out and his youthful pal, Horton Smith, finally struck one of those gruesome slumps as a climax of which he rolled up an 85 on a final round in one of the Southern tourneys. An 85 for the par-clipping "Mechanical Marvel from Missouri"—it's all but incredible!

It is an axiom that all who play golf steadily for years inevitably "crack wide open." All the game's masters have experienced those brutal streaks, and hope is still high that the 22-year-old Horton Smith will regain his 1929-30 form that made him loom as the successor to Walter Hagen, if not to the incomparable Jones.

In the meanwhile, Sarazen is reviving the glories of Skokie where he beat Jones in the final, way back in 1922. Gene is planning to enter the British Open this Spring and all other major golfing events to which he is eligible.

While a conqueror's light beats on the bronzed Sarazen, the Winter campaign finally brought a victory—the North and South championship—to the popular Wilfred (Wiffy) Cox, of Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the best liked of the pros among all who know him. Wiffy is a highly skilled golfer and he had been trying for years to win a big tournament. He often led the field with two or three brilliant rounds, but faltered in the finale.

This time he had to play off nine extra holes with Joe Turnesa but Wiffy did not wilt under the strain. That Cox victory was one of the brightest spots in all the long tour that lasted from December into April.

BABE RUTH LOST TO YANKEE CLUB FOR TWO WEEKS

SEVERE CHARLEY HORSE COMPLETES DAY'S MISFORTUNES FOR BABE

BOSTON, April 23.—(AP)—Babe Ruth is lost to baseball for two weeks at least, possibly a month.

Dr. Francis N. Newton of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, where the Babe was taken yesterday after his left leg gave way while chasing a long fly, discovered a severe charlevhorse in Ruth's righ thigh. Dr. Newton believed Ruth would be able to leave the hospital today but said he would not be able to play ball for "two weeks or a month."

Ruth's leg began bothering him during the first of the sixth inning of yesterday's Yankee-Red Sox game. The Yankees were at bat. The Babe doubled and slid into second. Lou Gehring singled and Ruth pulled up lame as he swung across third. His left ankle appeared to be bothering him and play was suspended while he rubbed his leg.

As play continued, Tony Lazzeri flied to Webb, Charley Berry, Red Sox catcher, tried to block Ruth at the plate and the Babe triped over Berry's legs in the tangle. Ruth grinned, gained his feet, and walked briskly to the Yankee bench.

The Yankee fielder's leg appeared all right as he walked to his position when the Sox came to bat.

Then, Tom Oliver, Red Sox heavy hitter, belted one out into Ruth's territory. While the Babe was chasing the ball his left leg buckled and he fell to the ground. A squad of Yankees carried him from the field and he was taken to the hospital after a hasty examination at the dressing room.

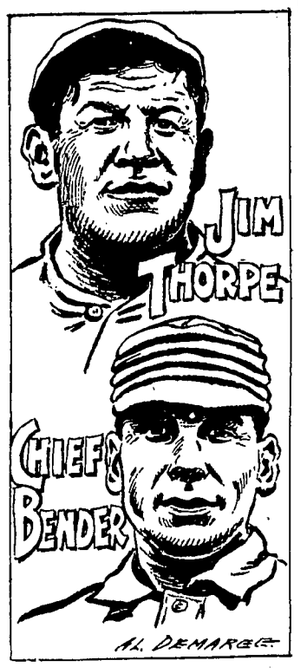

Ossie Solem Honored By Drake Officials

DES MOINES, Ia., April 23.—(AP)—A young Norseman who made good as a coach and developer of college youths will be honored at a testimonial dinner tonight by coaches and athletic fans here for the Drake relays.

He is Ossie Solem, who came to Drake University ten years ago and has since built up a nation-wide reputotion for the bulldog elevens.

Missing for the first time in several years from the ranks of men who gather here for the relays is the late Knute Rockne, Solem's fellow Norseman in the coaching ranks.

Bender's Benders Bent Batters

By AL DEMAREE
Former Pitcher New York Giants.

"Chief" Bender, Connie Macks' great Indian pitcher of other days, was a firm believer in the "bean ball" and gave a great exhibition of it in the last series between the Phillies and Braves in 1916.

Bender had joined the Phillies in 1916. The Phillies had won the pennant in 1915 and were only one game behind Brooklyn and playing the Boston Braves the last series of the season.

The Braves had been given $10,000 that morning to divide among themselves so that they would hustle and figh to win; a perfectly legitimate transaction in those days.

The Braves got the jump on us and when the game became one-sided, Pat Moran sent in Bender to pitch. We were so enraged at Boston beating us, that we collected a pot of money ourselves and offered Bender one dollar for every batter he hit below the waist line and five dollars above the waist.

The chief collected over $40 in less than five innings.

George Stallings, the Boston manager, claimed he was the only man on the team that wasn't hit and Bert Niehoff almost beaned him with a wild throw into the dug-out.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE ..... Daily Sun Sports Editor

Coach Ted L. Jeffries of the Corsicana high school track and field team is due the praise of the track and field fans of Corsicana due to the unusual showing and record turned in at the district meet held in Hillsboro last week end. The Tigers were coached by Jeffries and after being defeated in the county interscholastic league meet by the State Home Lads, came back strong in the district meet to cop first honors.

Jeffries was assistant football coach of the Tiger grid machines for the past two years, and had charge of the track squad this year, bringing to Corsicana high school the first district track title, and it might be added, incidentally, Jeffries helped Pierce mould the first district football championship eleven in 1930 when the Tigers went to the semi-finals of the Interscholastic league, and were doped to be headed for a state championship, but fell before Amarillo Sandies.

Jeffries will leave Corsicana at the end of this year to become head coach at Cisco high school. He debated the question of the move for some time, hating to leave Corsicana, but finally decided upon the move. His leaving is regretted by all the sportsmen in this section, and the best wishes go with him from Corsicanans in his field as head coach, and the performance of the Cisco Loboes in West Texas district competition will be watched with a great deal of inerest by the grid enthusiasts of Central Texas. Jeffries is popular with the boys, fans and faculty here. He will be succeeded here by Jake Hanna, another product of Centenary College, at Shreveport, La.

Home run hitters Wednesday included Cronin, Washington; Friberg, Philadelphia Phillies; Cochrane, Philadelphia Athletics; Roettger, Cincinnati; Critz, New York Giants.

Speer, center field patrol for Galveston Pirates, had a great day Wednesday when he had a perfect day at bat with five hits in five times up, three of them being two-baggers, and batting in four runs.

Dallas broke the tie with Fort Worth for the lead in the Texas league Wednesday with a 5-3 victory, the Steers making all their runs in the opening inning. With this loss, the Cats went into a tie with Beaumont for second place.

Lefty Grove, ace of the Athletic staff, was in fine form Wednesday and held the Washington Senators while his mates hammered out a 5-1 victory in the season opened in Philadelphia. Cronin, shortstop for the Senators, hammered out a home run for the only Washington score. The Athletics ran into rough sledding in the road trip opening the race, and are in sixth place in the percentage table, but they will probably not remain there long.

Qualifying rounds for the annual city-county golf tournament at the Country club is scheduled to open officially Thursday and the pairings in the five flights will be made Sunday night and actual competition and elimination will begin early next week. Approximately 100 golfers are expected to turn in their scores for this tournament. A lively tussle is expected to result for the first flight, and some real low marks are expected.

Twenty golfers will invade Hillsboro Sunday for the third competition in the Central Texas Golf league. Corsicana is topping the league with two wins and no losses, and a determined effort is to be made to maintain the league leadership. Hill county golfers can tie Corsicana for the league lead by a victory Sunday, and a real tussle is anticipated.

Two of the best amateur teams in this section are scheduled to clash on municipal park Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when the Lane Cardinals of Houston and the Magnolia Oilers of Corsicana meet. This should be one of the highlights of the season thus far.

Corsicana high school golfers go to Mexia Sunday to oppose the Mexia high four.

Plans are being made to have a large crowd on hand Thursday, April 30, when two teams from the Corsicana Tiger training camp clash in a benefit melee, the proceeds to go to the athletic fund of junior high school for the purchase of equipment for next year's club.

MAYOR EDENS AND OTHER OFFICIALS SWORN IN THURSDAY

NO RADICAL CHANGES IN POLICY PLANNED BY NEW ADMINISTRATION

After a mass of old business had been cleared away by the retiring body, the administration of the affairs of the city of Corsicana was deftly transferred from the hands of R. L. Wheelock to J. Wesley Edens, and continued without a noticeable pause at the regular meeting of the Corsicana City Commission Tuesday afternoon.

Mutual felicitations and congratulations were extended by the incoming and retiring officials, and in his inaugural address, Mayor Edens declared that he comtemplated no change in the policies of the preceding administration or any change in the projects started by the outgoing commission.

Mayor R. L. Wheelock and Commissioners W. P. Brown, G. L. Tatum and R. D. Fleming were in attendance as the old commission opened its final session Tuesday afternoon. When the mayor was delayed in reaching the meeting, Mayor Pro Tem Brown presided during the roll-call and reading of the extensive minutes of the last regular session which covered portions of two days.

Other city officials in attendance included City Secretary J. P. Welch, City Engineer W. W. McClendon, Assistant City Engineer W. V. Mowlam, City Sanitary Engineer G. M. Crook, Sanitary Superintendent John Wilson, Fire Chief E. L. Keith, City Sexton E. T. Wareing, Corporation Recorder H. S. Melear, Street Overseer Watt Stewart, City Health Officer W. R. Sneed, Tax Assessor and Collectof W. F. Seale, and City Attorney Wayne R. Howell.

Reports of officers were then ordered received and filed. They included the city secretary's financial statement to April 9, the monthly report of the city engineer showing receipts of $91.37; the annual report of the water department collector showing gross receipts of $103,642.82.

Annual Report City Engineer

The annual report of the city engineer showed fees collected of $219.37, and 615 permits issued, which included 2600 feet of sidewalk constructed and 7500 feet of drives built. A $50,000 decrease in the year's building permits was shown. Sewer extensions during the year totalled some 4600 feet. Among the projects carried on by the department were the construction of the new incinerator, preparation of paving plans, and cooperation with county and state highway officials on road building.

The contract and builder's bond of Klein Brothers Construction company for improvements on the water filtration plant were approved and accepted and the bidder's bond ordered returned.

Payment of final per diems to outgoing officials was also authorized. A bill for $440 for a soda-ash machine for use at Lake Halbert was ordered paid.

F. L. Wilcox, special auditor employed for the annual examination of the city's books started to present a series of recommendations to the outgoing officials but they told him the matters should be presented to the new commission.

Paving Ordinance Passed

A motion to put an ordinance providing for the improvement of North and South Nineteenth streets and sundry other streets for its second and final reading was passed with Mayor Wheelock, Commissioners Tatum, Fleming voting "aye," while Commissioner Brown voted "no." The ordinance was finally passed on roll-call by the same vote.

The sum of $2,000 was transferred to the park bond fund, and $1,021.33 to the crematory bond fund from the water department funds to care for overdrafts in this fund.

Mayor Wheelock then pronounced his valedictory, declaring that it had been a real pleasure to work with the commissioners for the past two years, that he had really enjoyed serving the city, and extended his thanks to the commission for its splendid cooperation.

New Officers Take Oath

He then administered the oath of office to the following incoming officers: Mayor J. W. Edens, City Commissioners Joe W. Jefferson, and E. M. Palmer; City Attorney Charles T. Banister, Tax Assessor and Collector J. M. Pugh, City Health Officer W. R. Sneed, City Secretary J. P. Welch and City Engineer W. W. McClendon.

The retiring mayor then passed the official gavel to the incoming executive and extended his congratulation on his election and upon his willingness to serve the city as its mayor.

Mayor Edens took the chair and first thanked the outgoing officials for their proffers of assistance in every possible way, stating that it was his intention to follow out their policies in regard to projects now under way.

He asserted that he had made no promises, had no "axes" to grind, and had no intention of replacing employes so long as they were efficient. He declared that his efforts would be devoted to the upbuilding of Corsicana, in making the city a better place in which to live and a better place in which to make a living.

Commissioners Assigned

The then made his appointments for the following year as follows:

Street and sanitary departments, E. M. Palmer; police and fire departments, R. D. Fleming; finance, parks and cemeteries, Joe W. Jefferson; water and street lights, W. C. Stroube.

Ordinance committee: Commissioners Jefferson and Stroube.

Building and grounds committee: Commissioners Fleming and Palmer.

Commissioner Fleming, dean of the group in point of service, was unanimously named mayor pro tem.

The city secretary read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wassell, asking that the street by the side of their home on North Thirteenth street not be paved. He also informed the commission that he had been served with papers in suits to cancel paving assessments brought by Joy Zillioz, Mrs. George M. Ricker, and the H. and T. C. Railway company. The city attorney told the commission that a similar suit was filed Tuesday by representatives of the Corsicana Compress company.

Bond Is Filed

The personal bond of J. M. Pugh, incoming tax assessor and collector, in the sum of $100,000 was approved. The bond bore the signatures of J. M. Pugh, as principal; and John Bressie, George F. Baum, Allen Edens and J. B. Bush as sureties.

An application for a place in the tax assessor and collectors office from Mrs. Jewell French Pitts was received and ordered filed.

The attention of the commission was called to the fact that it was time to make the annual appropriation for the support of the Corsicana public health nurse, $100 per month, but the commission agreed after some discussion to postpone action until the next meeting.

Mayor Edens stated that it was not necessary at this time to provide the annual mayor's charity fund.

City Treasury Named

Bids for city treasury were opened, and it was found that the First National Bank of Corsicana was the only bidder, offering two per cent on daily balances, paid daily, with a charge of two per cent for overdrafts when the entire funds were overdrawn. The bid was accepted and the First National Bank declared to be the city treasury.

City Engineer McClendon told the commission that the state highway department was anxious that signal lights be installed at the intersection of East Third avenue and North Seventh street, and at the intersection of South Seventh street and East Seventh avenue. It was also pointed out that some steps should be taken to protect traffic at the railroad crossings in this vicinity.

The commission decided to investigate the cost of signal lamps, to start action with the railroad companies, and to install a stop sign at the intersection of South Seventh street and East Seventh avenue.

The commission agreed to pay Charles T. Banister, city attorney, ten percent of the collections of delinquent taxes for a period of one year.

The street and sanitary commission was authorized to purchase a car load of sewer pipe, and a car load of asphalt paving materials.

The commission finally adjourned at 4:23 p. m.

Hillsboro Golfers Planning Dislodge Corsicana Players

HLLSBORO, April 22.—(Spl.)—Games in the Central Texas Golf association are resumed again next Sunday when Waxahachie goes to Cleburne, Ennis travels to Mexia and Corsicana visits Hillsboro.

Of those three games it looks as though the Hillsboro-Corsicana clash will be the headliner of the day. Corsicana who tops the league with two wins and no defeats will be endeavoring to win again while the Hillsboro golfers are hoping to defeat the Navarro county players and tie them for the league leadership.

Mexia has fallen before Corsicana 18-4 and Hillsboro 19-5. That really is not a true test of the playing ability of players on either the Corsicana or Hillsboro club.

Over fifty members of the Hillsboro Country Club are attempting to qualify for the local team that will meet the Corsicanans. To date Jimmy Marshall of the Hillsboro club is the only player in the league who has a hole in one to his credit.

ENTRIES MUST BE MADE APRIL 27 TO COMPETE AT STATE

AUSTIN, April 23.—(Spl)—Attention of schools over the state has been called to the one ironclad rule in regard to participation in athletic events in the state meet of the Texas Interscholastic league. This rule requires that all track and field entries must be made officially not later than ten days before the first day of the state meet, according to Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas League Bureau. This will set the deadline for mailing entry blanks at midnight, April 27, since the state meet this year begins May 7.

Each entry blank must list the name of the contestant and the event or events in which he is entered, Mr. Henderson said. Earlier in the season district directors of athletic events were supplied with official forms for this purpose, but an entry will be acceptable if made in letter form instead.

"The mere fact that a boy was qualified at the district tournament for participation in the state meet does not enter him in the state meet, Mr. Henderson declared. "It is necessary that an official entry be made and recorded with the state office. These entry blanks or letters must be in the mails by April 27."

AMATEUR BOXING TOURNAMENT WILL BE HELD NEW YORK

MANY TEAMS HAVE ARRIVED FOR CONTESTS STARTING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP)—Father Knickerbocker, about to get his first peep at the national amateur boxing championships in 26 years, is blinking already at some of the sights the winning youngsters are bringing to town.

The advance guard of the 162 amateurs who start four straight nights of leather slinging in Madison Square Garden next Monday night already are taking in the sights. They are coming from twenty states, from the army headquarters at Baltimore and the naval base at New London, Conn., with a six man team from the Hawaiian Islands already wandering about the city, squinting at tall buildings and the first major league baseball they have ever seen.

Shoeless Hawaiian

One of the Hawaiians, a native lightweight named Benny Akahuela, believed to be the best fighter on the team, startled amateur athletic union officials and set them to pondering the rules as soon as the squad reached a gym and climbed into togs to pose for "pitchers." Benny was ready for the cameras soonest of all but there were no shoes or socks on his bare grown feet.

When the lack was pointed out to him he shook his head.

"No shoes," he said, "no shoes."

In the excitement that followed it was discovered that Benny fights in his bare feet. Back in Hawaii he even plays football that way. A. A. U. officials scanned the books and discovered, furthermore, that there is no rule to prevent his continuing the custom in the national championships.

Shoes, Benny explained, would hamper him as much at this late date as bare feet would embarass the boys brought up in more Orthodox ring circles. The prospect of someone stomping on his toes didn't seem to bother him any.

Young Millionaire Entered

One of the comparatively local entries is creating more than ordinary interest. He is Winthrop Rutherford, Jr., of Allamuchy, N. J., and New York City, a youth whose inheritaance hs been estimated roughly at $20,000,000. He won his place on the New Jersey team by whipping Bobby Mess, New Jersey light heavyweight champion, in Newark last week.

Rutherfurd was a varsity crew man at Princeton, the heavyweight champion there and played some football.

Dallas Cleaners Attempt to Form New Organization

DALLAS, April 23.—(AP)—Disclaiming any intention of price-fixing but advocating harmony within the industry, cleaners and dyers of Dallas again took steps to organize at a meeting last night. Application for a charter was sent to Austin. Ben Lytle was elected president. The organization will replace a similar organization sponsored recently by C. J. Crampton, executive secretary of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, which was dissolved last week when Attorney General James V. Allred ruled its contract was illegal. Crampton spoke last night at the meeting, urging the cleaners and dyers to raise funds for co-operation, but announced that he no longer had any official connection with the movement.

Johnny Pierce Becomes Pepped Up Over Team; Game For Next Week

Coach Johnny Pierce is getting optimistic over the grid prospects for the approaching season as is being shown by the candidates in Spring training camp. An intra-club game will be played late next week-end.

The team will be divided into two camps early next week and will practice for several days.

Defensive tactics have been employed this week, and the boys are looking fine.

All of the track men are now out for the grid training, and a considerable difference has been noted, observers aver.

The intra-club game will likely be played on Thursday or Friday afternoon of next week.

"The boys look fine, and the others (opponents) will have to catch us this fall," opined the Tiger mentor.

CARDINALS, BRAVES AND YANKEES HAVE BEEN GOING STRONG

TOM ZACHARY SHUTOUT ROBINS; BABE RUTH INJURED WEDNESDAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

There still is nothing that quite takes the place of old-fashioned, airtight pitching when it comes to winning ball games. And it takes no more than a cursory examination of the records up to now is to discover why the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves are setting the National league back on its heels, nor why the New York Yankees are going likewise to the junior circuit.

They have been getting some swell pitching. In seven games the Cards' great mound staff has allowed only 19 runs and the Braves' surprisingly stout staff has given up only 28 scores in nine tilts. Yankee moundsmen have held opponents to 29 runs in eight games and five of their starting pitchers have been in at the finish. This would seem to be as good an answer as any to the skeptics who wondered what the Yanks would do for pitching this season.

Old Tom Zachary became the third Braves hurler to start and finish in as many days when he set the hapless Brooklyn Robins down with four scattered hits yesterday and blanked them, 4 to 0.

Two Card pitchers, Slyvester Johnson and Jim Lindsey, gave a similar masterpiece in beating the Cincinati Reds, 3 to 2. They allowed only four hits and not a Red was left on base.

Yank Victory Costly

Although the Yankees increased their advantage over Washington and Cleveland by trimming the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 5, there was little satisfaction in the victory. Babe Ruth was injured going after a fly in the sixth inning and there was a possibility he would be out several weeks. Up to the time he was hurt the Bambino had driven in three runs and scored twice.

A three run splurge in the seventh, touched off by Hughie Critz's home run, enabled the Giants to nose out the Phillies, 5 to 4, in their debut at the Polo Grounds.

The Athletics gave Lefty Grove a four run lead in the first inning and that was sufficient. He beat Washington, 5 to 1, Joe Cronin's homerun in the second depriving him of a shutout.

Pat Caraway was invincible after the second inning and the Chicago White Sox opened before the home folks with a 10 to 2 win over Cleveland.

Rain kept the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates apart and wet grounds prevented the scheduled Tiger-Brown skirmish at Detroit.

Sterilization Confronts Third Term Criminals

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23.—(AP)—Governor W. H. Murray today chracterized as a "good law" a bill signed yesterday providing for sterilization of certain persons at state hospitals for the insane and third termers at the state penitentiaries.

The cases would be recommended by a board of physicians, hearings would be held and relatives would have the right of appeal from the board's ruling.

"There isn't a doubt but that it is a good law," the governor said. "It should apply to those with hereditary insanity and the habitual criminal. There are cases where a long string of criminals or insane descendants have followed a prisoner or insane patient."

It was estimated at the capitol that about two thirds of approximately 5,000 persons in state hospitals for the insane are within the age limit provided in the bill, but probably only a few cases recommended by superintendents of the institutions will be treated.

An estimate could not be obtained as to the number of third termers in state prisons.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23.—(AP)—Sterilization confronted third term criminals in Oklahoma prisons and certain inmates of insane asylums today.

Governor W. H. M. Murray yesterday signed a measure passed by the legislature providing for such action under the administration of the state board of affairs which controls all state hospials and prisons.

"More attention ought to be paid to the criminals than to persons of unsound mind," Governor Murray said.

"Criminality and weakness of the brain both unmistakably are due to inheritance.

"Sterilization is not a punishment, but a protection. It carries no stigma or humiliation. It is a humane measure for the best interests of all."

The method of sterilization, Dr. Gray said, provided by the measure, interferes with no blood or nerve supply and produces no physical chance.

HOUSE VOTES TO LEGALIZE SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENTS

MOVING PICTURE AND THEATRE PERFORMANCES ON SUNDAY FAVORED

AUSTIN, April 22.—(AP)—Voting 86 to 42, the house today passed a bill which proposes to legalize Sunday movies and theater performances.

The house spent little more than an hour considering the bill. It voted to cut off argument by ordering the previous question.

An amendment by Representative Dodd of Nash which sought to strike out the enacting clause was rejected. The vote was 89 to 45.

The bill would permit operation of Sunday movies and theater performances under the local option plan. Cities and towns would have the authority to allow or prohibit Sabbath day shows.

Sunday shows, under the bill, would be prohibited from operating before 1 p. m.

Representative Stephenson of Junction questioned the constitutionality of the bill. Representative Adams of Beaumont, speaking for the bill, stated [illegible] attorney general had advised [illegible] bill will stand the [illegible]

Governor Sterling Signs Many Measures

AUSTIN, April 22.—(AP)—Governor Sterling today signed 24 bills and one proposed constitutional amendment.

Most of the bills were minor or local. They included proposals to force persons unrelated to parties from whom they inherit money or property to pay inheritance taxes and to permit insurance companies to own office buildings on leased ground.

The proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted at the next general election would lower the price necessary to redeem land sold because of non-payment of taxes.

House Substitutes.

AUSTIN, April 22.—(AP)—Substituting house finance committee recommendations for those offered by the senate commitee, the house oday pased the $10,104,298 eleemosynary appropriations bill The senate bill, passed by the senate last week, called for $11,505,660.

Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the house finance committee indicated that free conference committeemen would be called upon to thrash out the differences between the two houses.

House adopted an amendment by Representative Justice of Corsicana which would reduce the slaries of all superintendents of eleemosynary institutions [illegible] $2500 annually.

MISSIONARY WOMEN HEARD ADDRESS BY THEIR PRESIDENT

APPROXIMATELY TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE TUESDAY

Featuring the Wednesday morning session of the twenty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Texas conference, in the auditorium of the First Methodist church were the president's address by Mrs. J. H. Stewart, the vice-president's message, public reports of young people's work, new plans for the Christian Education Movement, by Mrs. J. W. Downs, administrative secretary Home fields, Woman's Missionary Council, and an address by a missionary.

The attendance was marked by approximately 250 delegates and visitors from Brownwood, Cisco, Cleburne, Corsicana, Fort Worth, Gatesville, Georgetown, Waco, Waxahachie and Weatherford districts.

The morning session opened with a pipe organ prelude of sacred music by Miss Mabell Boaz, and a number of songs led by Mrs. C. A. Boaz. Mrs. Sam G. Thompson read the scripture lesson, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs W. L. Perry, after which Mrs. Stewart led the devotional. Mrs. J. S. Callicut closed the devotional with a prayer.

Minutes of the executive and afternoon meetings were read and approved; organization continued; committees named; and telegrams read. Mrs. Boaz, accompanied by Miss Boaz sang a solo which she dedicated to Mrs. Stewart.

Opening her message, the president declared that the closing of the fiscal year discloses many accomplishments, but urged the delegates to continue their constructive work, and from now on look to the future, and not upon past achievements. She implored all present to give over their powers to God, so that He might use them as He sees best.

"One thing I hope all will get from this conference," the president went on, "is an enrichment, and personal religious experience, that you can take it back to your homes with you, and spread it among your members, for they who know God, will do His work."

Benefits of Quiet Hour

Here the speaker pointed out the benefits derived from the keeping of a "quiet hour," each day. "Our homes and families need more of our time, because it is upon the home that the foundation of the school and church is built," she continued. Mrs. Stewart called special attention to the fact the church needs more of people's efforts than have been given heretofore, and said that now is the time when a renewal of vows is needed. In this connection she asserted that never more than the present time do people need what the church has to give them in return for their efforts.

The president, at this time, paid high tribute to the work of conference officers, and introduced each one individually. She also paid homage to other special conference workers.

Mrs. Stewart spoke briefly upon conference finances. Here she discussed the unsettled conditions of governments in foreign mission fields, and summarized the statement with a recounting of the great needs in each.

Women Taken to Task

In a vitrolic statement, the president condemned the action of women in general in substituing worldly amusements for their church work, and then challenged those present to work among such women, and be instumental in bringing them into the benefits derived from spreading the teachings of the Bible, and its attending benefits. Summarizing this portion of her message, Mrs. Stewart declared that fabulous wealth buys many luxuries, but only the religion taught by Jesus Christ can give peace, happiness and contentment.

At this time the president called special attention to home-land work; pointing out its surprising condition; and then asked the delegates of the conference if they had been, and would turn listening ears to the need of this work. She told of the perilous conditions existing, and said that additional missionaries must be sent out to alleviate the troubles.

Need Well Directed Life

Veering to a discussion of foreign missionary work, Mrs. Stewart told of the needs in India, Japan, China and Korea.

"Another need," she asserted, "is a wel directed life; one that has a direct purpose, and observes the strictest discipline." Concluding her message, Mrs. Stewart classified members of the Woman's Missionary Society as "the robot type, which must be pushed; the sailboat, that goes with the trend of the wind; and the steamboat which goes where it wishes."

Mrs. Sam G. Thompson, vice-president, opening her message assured the conference that it had been a joy to serve them in her official capacity, and she had attempted to attend them faithfully and dutifully. She told of the promotion of "stewardship" among the corresponding secretaries, and took that as her subject for the morning.

"We pray for the Lord to send us a great revival," she asserted, and the answer comes back 'Stewardship'." Here she pointed out that stewardship is only a theory with most Christian people, but is in reality a trust given them from God.

Must Face Problems

Mrs. Thompson avered that the church must face the present problem if it is to be a saving force in this generation. "We need to know the will of god, and use his requirements in our daily lives," the vice-president declared. At this point in her message, Mrs. Thompson gave a lengthy discussion of finance, and quoted, "the love of money is the root of all evil." Further in this connection she pointed out that avarice is the consuming sin.

A lengthy discussion of stewardship followed, and in conclusion Mrs. Thompson suggested several books upon the subject for the various societies represented to secure and study. The vice-president's report was followed by another song, and a report of young peoples' work by Mrs. John W. Spivey.

Work Among Young People

Mrs. Spivey gave an encouraging report on work being done in the young people's departments, and complimented the superintendents upon their activities. "I feel that our young people have been loyal and faithful under the direction of their parent-missionary societies," she asserted. The speaker commented upon the splendid progress being made in the various aspects of young peoples' work, and quoted statistics showing accomplishments of the past year. Considerable time was consumed by Mrs. Spivey with a discussion of work done in summer camps. An impressive candle lighting ceremony was conducted, and three former superintendents in person or by proxy gave reports of activities of young peoples' work during their administrations. This portion of the morning session was closed with prayers by Miss Eugenia Smith, and Mrs. Lydia Ferguson.

Mrs. J. W. Downs gave a resume of "new plans for the Christian Education Movement," and in the course of her talk gave technical details of how the new movement has been worked out. She explained that a commission was named to work on the new plans, and required to report its findings to the general conference. The speaker explained changes in various boards and how helpful and constructive building and leadership was the problem engendering the change. The remainder of her talk consisted of a detailed explanation of the changes regarding literature, funds, etc.

An address by Mrs. C. T. Schaedel, returned missionary from Africa was next given during the morning session. It was followed by a memorial service conducted by Mrs. J. W. David, a solo by Mrs. C. A Boaz, and a quiet hour service, conducted by Mrs. Downs.

Address Features Tuesday Evening

Mrs. J. W Downs, administrative secretary, home fields, Woman's Missionary Council, of Nashville, delivered the principal address, titled "Message from the Home Land," at the Tuesday evening session of the twenty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, Central Texas conference, to a packed house in the main auditorium of the First Methodist church here last night. Music for the evening was furnished by the church choir, directed by Edward F. Hearn; singing was led by Mrs. C. A. Boaz; and the devotional was led by Dr. J. W. Bergin, pastor-host.

Mrs. Boaz, with Miss Mabell Boaz as accompanist, led a short song service before the evening's program proper started. Dr. Bergin gave a dramatic and impressive reading of the 37th Psalm.

A well rendered vocal solo by Mrs. L. S. Cooper opened the special music, and was followed by an anthem sung by the choir. The opening prayer was given by Rev. Barr, of Temple. Mrs. J. H. Stewart, president, introduced Mrs. Downs.

Striking the keynote of her talk in the opening words, Mrs. Downs said: "Times today are such that every group of Christian people working for the furtherance of the teachings of the Bible must be courageous. All missions are calling for additional missionaries. Here she pointed to what she termed the vogue in heathen countries, in olden times, when the natives are killing missionaries.

Reaping As We Sow.

Further Mrs. Downs declared the world is now realizing it reaps what it sows, and has come to the conclusion that for many years it has been sowing corruption. "What then," she continued, "can the world expect to reap but corruption? "We have disregarded all established laws, and forgotten the consequences."

New governments, the speaker went on, are being tried in practically every nation of the world, and are offering an opportunity for real world service to the established nations, in deciding how and where to stand in relation to them. We can't decide whether to take a stand for the basic principals upon which the new governments are formed, or sell out for the "thirty pieces of silver," she continued.

At this point Mrs. Downs entered into a lengthy discussion and delienation of how the United States stands as a paradox in world policy toward other nations. She told that America's world policy is to impose peace throughout

Sessions Opened Tuesday Afternoon

Sessions of the twenty-first annual Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Texas conference, officially opened in the main auditorium of the First Methodist church here Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with appropriate words of welcome being extended by of the world, and has the Kellogg peace pact as an instrument to enforce it. Here the speaker said: "The Kellogg peace pact is a shrewdly and diplomatically worded instrument."

America's Place Responsible.

Continuing, Mrs. Downs said that America's place "in the sun" is a responsible and dangerous one. "Spiritual life must be developed as rapidly as the growth of science, or man will be empowered by the latter with factors that may be used for either his desruction or for the upbuilding of the world, a power that no other generation has had," Mrs. Downs went on. In this machine age of ours, we must be careful, and give much consideration to everything we do, the speaker declared.

"Every generation asks how far to happiness?" she asserted. In her following remarks, Mrs. Downs showed that education, science and many other things have failed to provide happiness. "The church is now too eager to go of fat a tangent, and follow the bi-products of religion, instead of the dissiminating of religion itself, which is now held secondary," she went on. "Such an attitude is a dangerous one, and is likely to undermine the underlying foundations of religion. In this connection Mrs. Downs asserted, "Hearts of men are made for God; we mlst work to spread the teachings of Jesus Christ, and it is only in this way we can be happy."

"Teachings of Jesus Christ are the only things that will abolish fear," she continued.

Should Read Bible.

The speaker declared that to cure the wickedness of the world, we should read the Bible, become saturated with its principals, then go out into the world and spread is teachings, and then, she said, "This will bring happiness."

Concluding, Mrs. Downs asserted, "I am praying that the Woman's Missionary Society will be a leading force in the world and give the principals of Christ's teachings in such a way that everyone will want to live as nearly as possible like He did."

A vocal duet by Mrs. C. A. Boaz and Miss Mabell Boaz, "Calvery Covers It All," closed the Tuesday evening session of the conference.

ficials of the host church, and the response being given on behalf of the delegates by Mrs. W. S. Mayes Waco district secretary. Preliminary organization steps were taken, and the remainder of the afternoon was consumed with meetings of various committees.

Led by Mrs. C. A. Boaz, the devotional consisted of songs, Scriptures and prayers.

The first host-church official to extend a welcome to visitors was Dr. Caspar S. Wright, presiding elder of the Corsicana district. The presiding elder said there is no body exemplifying unity in spirit like that of a group of missionary women combined for the expressed purpose of working for one single cause. "We have high hopes of accomplishing much in this conference with such a wonderful group of women gathered here for this three-day session," he pointed out.

Further in his talk, Dr. Wright admonished the delegates to carry out their programs on schedule time. "The Corsicana district congratulates you for having chosen this district to hold your conference, and we all place ourselves at your disposal, and hope you will have an enjoyable stay," the presiding elder closed.

Latchstrings Are Out.

Dr. J. W. Bergin, pastor of the First Methodist church, and pastor-host, after several laughter provoking sallies, summarized his words of welcome in the sentence: "The latch-strings to our hearts and homes are on the outside—use them."

Mrs. J. S. Callicutt, Corsicana district secretary, in her opening remarks of welcome, said that the city of Corsicana feels honored, and is to be congratulated when a band of missionary women selected Corsicana as their conference city, and hopes that their stay will be an enjoyable and profitable one. Characterizing her attitude toward the conference with the words, "We are here to serve you, and you certainly are welcome," Mrs. Callicutt closed.

STATE REVENUES ARE INCREASED BY NEW LEGISLATION

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—The state government will not be faced with a revenue shortage during the next biennium if the house has its way.

That body yesterday agreed to the three cents a package cigarette tax approved by the senate and passed a bill to levy a tax of two cents per 1,000 cubic feet on distributors of natural gas.

The governor's signature was all that was needed to enact the cigarette tax into law and proponents were confident that would be forthcoming. It was estimated the levy would raise $6,000,000 annually if reasonably well enforced. Included in the cigarette tax bill was a natural gas tax of two per cent on gross production which should bring about $600,000 a year. Producers would pay this tax.

The tax on gas distributors was added to a bill to revise the general occupation taxes. Estimates were that it would raise $4,000,000 annually. It has not passed the senate, however.

Would Tax Electricity.

The gas distributors tax amendment was offered by Representative Farmer of Fort Worth and was adopted, 76 to 32. The bill was passed 102 to 27. After engrossment, Representative Pope of Corpus Christi offered an amendment to tax the distributors of electricty. It received 56 ayes to 55 noes but a two-thirds vote would have been necessary for its adoption.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT HAS ACCEPTED ROAD

PAVING OF TWO STRETCHES HIGHWAY IN COUNTY EXPECTED BE LET SOON

The state highway department accepted the dirt and drainage structures on state highway 31 from Corsicana east to the line of consolidated road district No. 1 two miles east of Powell Thursday, J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer, stated. D. H. Purvis and Sons of Fort Worth were the contractors on this job.

Plans and specifications for the paving on this section of the highway will be prepared within the immediate future, and it is expected that the contract for the paving of this road will be awarded during the summer.

It is expected in engineering circles that the contracts for the paving of the 10 miles of state highway 14 from Richland to the Limestone county line via Currie and Wortham, 12 miles, will be awarded by the state highway commission either at its May or June sessions, which will give ample time for these pavements to be completed during the year.

Work is going forward preparatory to the beginning of work on the tie-in from North Beaton street to highway 75 and also the Corsicana-Ward Bridge lateral. Engineering work has practically been finished on these two projects.

BISHOP S. R. HAY HEARD WEDNESDAY NIGHT BY WOMEN

these words Bishop Hay based his sermon.

He said "the Master wished His kingdom to be a world kingdom, and members of it to be citizens of the world, and broad in understanding. He also wished them to let their lights shine before men so they may see God in you. Continuing, the bishop said in part:

Three Fold Message

"The three verses I read from Matthew make up the three-fold message of the kingdom. Christ put His kingdom into the very hearts of the degenerates on the earth, and told them, 'ye are the light of the world.' I say, in the first place, Christianity is a world religion." Here the speaker quoted the Emperor of Japan as saying that Christianity is a world religion, and that all others are narrow.

"We won't get very far with our message if we do not pay more attention to that of our home-land. If we are weak in any part of our church, it is in our expansion of home work. I've had first hand experience, and know what I'm talking about.

Home Field Large

Bishop Hay went on: "Don't let the world conception of your religion blot out the home conception, as it has done with many narrow and biased people." The speaker told here of the fertile missionary field that is open in Texas, and in this connection pointed out that one-fifth of Texas' people have never been inside a church. Relative to this, he also said. "Many Texas preachers are too busy riding around in their flivvers visiting their wife's people, and neglecting the little churches in their jurisdiction. Again, I say, our trouble is that we are neglecting our homework." At this point the speaker asserted that the church has a great opportunity for real service in Texas.

Continuing, Bishop Hay declared "the best work being done in the Orient is under the auspices of the Woman's Council." This statement was received with applause. In his following remarks the speaker told of the various institutions in the Orient, and related many interesting experiences he had while visiting them.

China Anxious for Christianity

"China is anxious for the Christian religion, is in a receptive attitude now for the world's only hope, Jesus Chirst," Bishop Hay declared, in relating events at a "feast" he attended in that country. Here the speaker entered a lengthy discussion of churches founded in foreign countries, and said that if the parent-church draws away at this time, the struggling young churches will fall, and all the past efforts will have been in vain.

Concluding, Bishop Hay likened a sacrificial life to a candle which burns itself away in order to provide light for others.

Mrs. J. H. Stewart, presiding officer, thanked the speaker, and Mrs. Boaz, accompanied by her daughter, sang an impressive vocal solo. The benediction was given by Rev. J. W. Bergin, pastor of the First Methodist church.

TELEGRAM ORDERED SENT STERLING BY METHODIST WOMEN

Crosswhite, Fort Worth, superintendent of supplies, re-elected.

Musical Program

A musical prelude was given by Miss Mabell Boaz, Fort Worth, pianist, and was followed by a song service, led by Mrs. C. A. Boaz. The devotional followed, being led by Mrs. J. D. Smoot of Brownwood, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. J. W. Downs.

Reports were given by the following secretaries and committees: Committee on extension of work; committee on district secretaries' books; superintendent of study; superintendent of Christian social relations; committee on Christian social relations; superintendent of supplies; committee on supplies; conference treasurer; committee on finance, and report of 1931 council meeting. The report of the Methodist dormitory, at Austin was postponed until the afternoon meeting.

Before the principal speaker of the morning was introduced Dr. Caspar S. Wright, presiding elder Corsicana district, made a brief announcement; several telegrams were read; and it was decided to select the 1932 meeting place instead of Thursday night, and Gatesville was unanimously selected.

Economic Depression

Opening her remarks, Miss Ferguson gave graphic accounts of the bad effects wrought in Brazil as a result of financial depression, and stated that it is worse there than in the United States. "The Woman's Missionary Society is going a great work there, and I urge you not to withdraw your help when your children have set up housekeeping for themselves," she declared.

Miss Ferguson read a letter giving graphic descriptions of touching scenes enacted in Brazil, and delineating the excellent work being done by missionaries.

The remainder of her talk consisted of realistic explanations of harrowing experiences in that country by natives and how they eventually embraced the Christian religion, and became impelling forces in the further conversion of the country to that faith.

She spent considerable time in a discussion of a leper colony established by the missionaries, and told how afflicted are being provided for. Concluding the speaker related many interesting experiences she had in Brazil.

MEXIA WOMAN IS NAMED PRESIDENT MISSIONARY BODY

was conducted by Miss Lydia Ferguson, missionary to Brazil, who gave the opening prayer, and read the Twenty-third Psalm as the Scripture lesson, which she commented upon frequently. Minutes of the morning meeting were read by Mrs. N. R. Buckley, recording secretary, and approved by the body.

Memorial Service.

Mrs. J. W. David conducted an impressive memorial ceremony, and was assisted by Mrs. Boyce Martin, who sang an appropriate vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. H. B. Love. The ceremony closed with a prayer by Rev. R. A. Crosby of the Corsicana district.

At this time a report of young people's work was given, and several suggestions and recommendations were made, by Mrs. J. W. Spivey and Miss Bess Norwood. The report indicated that generally young people's work is having a tendency to widen and enlarge in activities.

Miss Smith, Houston, deaconess, was presented and quoted the 14th chapter of Acts, the 27th verse, "Open the door of faith," and took these words as a basis for her succeeding remarks. She pointed out in opening that it is a privilege to spend our blood and might for the principals upon which the Christian religion is based. "God's work has widened, deepened, and sweetened in misisonary work," she averred.

Tells of Missionary Work.

From her observation in missionary work, Miss Smith told of many interesting experiences and incidents that have occurred in her field of endeavor in South Texas, among the Mexicans. In this connection, she gave an interesting discourse on education among the Mexicans in Texas, and brought out the fact that many children have been taken from bad surroundings and made to do good missionary work among their race. Relative to this work, Miss Smith asserted. "The definite work now is to bring Mexicans into a workable knowledge of Christ's teachings."

The deaconess clearly pointed out in closing that when missionaries are through with them, the Mexicans always carry on similar work among their race.

Bishop Hay Presented.

Dr. Caspar S. Wright, presiding elder of the Corsicana district, presented Bishop Sam R. Hay, who made a few remarks concerning missionary work as he has observed it. The bishop told many interesting events connected with the organizaion of the American church (Independent National church) in Mexico, and concluded with the statement that "America has a unique and profound responsibility to Mexico."

Bishop Hay's remarks were followed by the election of officers, which was presided over by Mrs. Stewart.

Mrs. Landrum gave an encouraging report of the corresponding secretary, and based her remarks upon the words, "Recruit, revive, renew, remember and retain." She announced that the Fort Worth district had the greatest number of points, and would be presented with a loving cup.

Reports Encouraging.

Encouraging reports that indicated a progressive attitude and a growing of interest and membership were given by the district secretaries of the following towns: Brownwood, Mrs. J. D. Smoot; Cisco, Mrs. J. E. Hickman; Cleburne, Mrs. Ray Neighbors; Corsicana, Mrs. J. S. Callicutt; Fort Worth, Mrs. J. N. Whitehurst; Gatesville, Mrs. W. C. Guggolz; Georgetown, Mrs. B. T. Stribling; Waco, Mrs. W. S. Mayes; Waxahachie, Mrs. George Leatherwood, and Weatherford, Mrs. Rhea Anderson.

Further reports wee given by committee on extension wok; commrittee on district secretaries record boks; superintendent of study, and committee on study.

"The Vision" was the title of an impressive dramatization given as the concluding portion of the afternoon's prgram by the Mexia auxiliary, with Mrs. George L. Peyton, director. Appropriate music was given in connection with the realistic presentation.

and told of the excellent work being done in that country by missionaries.

Hon. W. A. Tarver who was scheduled to be the main speaker at tonight's session in the closing meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society conference will be unable to fill this engagement and in his place Mrs. J. W. Downs, home mission administration secretary, will be the principal speaker.

Welcome Rains Fall

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP)—Welcome rain dampened Eastern states day.

Soggy, black barren, in some places contrasted against glaring white patches of snow, showed in sections where subborn forest fires had ranged for days.

Heavy rains helped scores of fire fighters who were combatting fires in Cattaragus and Alleghany counties, New York, along the Pennsylvania line. The most dangerous blaze in New York state burned for 24 hours along a three mile front in the Adirondacks.

In the vicinity of Jamestown, N. Y., the rain turned to snow.

Rain and snow in the Alleghany mountain region of Western Pennsylvania quenched scores of fires.

The rain removed the forest fire menace in New Jersey and on Long Island and was welcomed throughout the East by farmers.

Cold Rain in North Texas.

WICHITA FALLS, April 23.—(AP)—A light misting rain began falling throughout North Texas and Oklahoma early this morning as the temperature rose but a few degrees from its minimum of 35 yesterday.

The rain was a little heavier in Oklahoma than in Texas, according to railroad officials. The entire section was darkened by low hanging clouds and more rain was indicated by weather forecasts.

BELIEVE MEXICAN MURDERER OF GIRL IN SAN ANTONIO

yards from her home last night. San Antonio police and Sheriff J. B. Lott and Deputy S. J. Wall of Atascosa county turned their search for the girl's slayer to this city for a Mexican who formerly lived here.

Finding a bloody pair of overalls a few feet from the girl's body, partial identification of the Mexican owner who disappeared before the body was found, and knowledge that he formerly had lived here shifted the search.

The little girl, pupil in the Leming school, started for the home of her stepfather, Elmer Dickey, of Leming, at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. She was seen walking down a path through the woods towards home and a Mexican, Deputy Wall learned, was seen on the path some distance ahead of her. Officers believed when she reached a secluded place on the path the Mexican attempted to attack her, became alarmed by her screams, and stabbed her to death. More than 20 wounds were found in her body.

At nearly sundown, Dickey started towards the school to find why the child had not returned home, and found the body.

An inquest was held by a justice at the place where the body was found and it then was removed to the Dickey home.

One Killed, Seven Accident Wednesday

dent has "suggested so many worthy modifications of our immigration and deportation laws."

Leaders Are Present.

Among those who attended the conference were Walter Newton, presidential secretary; Secretary Hyde; Sam R. McKelvie, farm board wheat member; Robert Lucas, executive director of the republican national committee; Earl Venable, secretary of the republican congressional committee, and Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

As that meeting ended, Chairman Fess of the republican national committee attacked as "confidential smearing" and "a brazen falsehood" statements attributed to Chairman Shouse of the democratic national executive committee in a recent Los Angeles speech.

Shouse, Fess charged, said the republican national committee bought for distribution 10,000,000 copies of a magazine article which discussed the "religious affiliations" of Chairman Raskob of the democratic national committee.

That statement, Fess asserted, was an "adroit falsehood."

To Continue Work In South.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—Horace Mann, President Hoover's southern campaign director in 1928, said today he would continue the formation of his southern republican organization during the coming summer from Linville, N. C.

Mann plans to open national headquarters in Washington next winter to organize the forces for the approaching convention and campaign. The purpose of the organization will be to send delegates to the convention opposed to the renomination of President Hoover.

The Mann organization in the south, according to its leader, is being built on the basis of the 1928 republican setup and Mann's associates hope to unite this southern group with anti-Hoover delegations from northern states.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes' column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (s.a.s.e.) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling.

For the illustrated pamphlet, "BEAUTY," ten cents in stamps with S. A. S. E. must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

HOW TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED.

PHOTOGRAPHIC MAKEUP.

You must make up your face when you want it photographed. This is absolutely necessary. In the Beauty Chats today Miss Forbes tells just how much makeup to use and how to pose for a good picture.

If you want to have a really good photograph of yourself you can either go to a very expensive photographer, who will arrange lights and re-touch negatives and work until he turns out a really artistic reproduction of yourself. Or you can experiment for a few minutes with some of these machines which let you photograph yourself, and by studying the pictures and the various poses that result, you will find out what to do when you go to a cheap photographer. That is, you will find out whether you look best grave or gay, which side of your face is best, and whether to be taken profile or full face. To do you anything like justice, a camera portrait must flatter you Even the best photograph gives neither color nor movement. Therefore it is necessary to make up for the camera a little bit.

Have your hair freshly washed and set at a good hair dressing shop. If you have artificial waves, have a water wave, and do not allow the curling iron to be used. Then make up your face a bit. If your eyebrows are too thick have them thinned, or thin them yourself, for thick eyebrows are much too prominent in a photograph. Make up the eyelashes with the sticky black mascara which you put on with a litle brush. Use this carefully so that the eyelashes do not stick together, and be particularly sure that the color gets on the ends of the lashes toward the outside corners of the eyes. Put a very tiny touch of black at the very outside corner of each eye. Use a good deal of powder on the face, for a heavily powdered skin photographs well. Use no color on the cheeks at all, for red photographs black, and rouge would only make your cheeks look hollow. If your mouth is large use lipstick on the centre part only, and emphasize the upper lip, and the "Cupid's bow." Spread the color toward the corners of the mouth so it blends in nicely. If the mouth is small spread the color all over the lips, and use it to correct the shape if the shape is bad.

This is all the makeup you need.

D. H.—C. C.—To clear the skin of blackheads, try opening the pores by placing hot wet cloths over the skin for at least five minutes, changing the cloths as they cool off. Dry the skin and rub a cleansing cream or oil into the places needing cleansing for a few minutes when a portion of the soil will be softened; in fact, all that you can do at that one treatment will have been accomplished.

Remove the soiled cream, bathe with warm water and soap, and rinse generously, making the final one extremely cold. This last rinse closes the pores and helps the circulation so there will be a tonic effect from it. Two or three such cleansings may be necessary over a period of several months before the pores are cleared and show a tendency to shrink to their normal size again.

Any exercise in which you use the muscles of the hips and stomach will keep that part of the body in condition so there will be no extra accumulation of fat. If a person stands properly the entire abdomen is lifted giving support to all the organs and also firmness to the abdominal walls. Healthful breathing also prevents accumulations of fat about the abdomen, waist, and back, as it exercises and also oxygenizes the body in a much more effective way than poor breathing wil do for it.

Mrs. G. V. O.—To help fill out the hollows about your ankles, massage them daily and rub some nourishing oil into the skin as you manipulate the muscles.

"STABILIZATION" PROGRAM ADOPTED FOR NEW OIL AREA

PRORATION FIGHT WOULD BE DELAYED SIXTY DAYS BY AGREEMENT

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—Proration of East Texas would be started May 1 and the intial allowable production would be 130,000 barrels daily increasing to 150,000 barrels June 15, under the agreement reached by East Texas oil men, R. D. Parker supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission said today.

The agreement was made last night. Opponents of proration, headed by Earl Estes, who had obtained a temporary injunction restraining the enforcement of proration against him and his associates, consented to call off the fight until May 1. Both sides planned to ask J. D. Moore, district judge to suspend the injunction for sixty days.

Production would be increased to 140,000 barrels daily May 15 and 145,000 barrels June 1 and proration would extend to July 1. A committee of eleven, agreeable to both sieds, would be named for the entire area and it would work with the commission in the enforcement of the order.

The agreement was subject to the commission's aproval. The commission's former order allowed between 90,000 and 130,000 barrels daily over the period to July 1.

Oil men who attended the conference said they had been ascured of an immediate increase in the price of oil as a result of the agreement.

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—The vexing East Texas oil proration problem seemed settled today at least for the next 60 days

Proponents and opponents of proration agreed last night on a "stabilization" program, only the details of which remained to be worked out today. The agreement was reached after two all-day conferences.

Under the agreement, the fight against proration would be called off for 60 days. Carl Estes of Tyler, who had obtained a temporary injunction which had delayed proration of the new area, was one of the conferees.

Those attending the conference said they had been assured of an immediate increase in the price of oil as a result of the agreement.

It was understood that under the truce, the East Texas allowable production would be increased over the amount originally recommended by the railroad commission. The commission had recommended 90,000 barrels daily at the start, increasing gradually to 130,000 barrels June 15.

The agreement was subject to the approval of J. D. Moore of Austin, the district judge from whom Estes obtained his temporary injunction, and the railroad commission.

Oklahoma City Field Allowable Increased

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21.—(AP)—Aid for small refineries in the Oklahoma City area was seen today in the increased allowable flow from the Oklahoma City oil field.

The state corporation commission issued an order late yesterday increasing the allowable flow 40,000 barrels daily to 165,000 barrels for the rest of April, and to 175,000 barrels daily during May. The order became effective yesterday morning.

During the rest of this month, the flow will be 7 per cent on a potential of 2,240,640 barrels, with the remainder of the total allowable to be made up by under produced wells.

In May the percentage will be 8 per cent on a potential of 2,549,489 barrels.

The new order was issued following hearings last week on petition by Otto Bradford, field umpire, asking that the commission fix the allowable.

At the hearings, pipeline representatives aand crude oil buyers asked for the increase, basing their petition on an increased demand for the next six weeks.

Humble Cuts Price.

HOUSTON, April 20.—(AP)—Price reductions ranging from five to 20 cents a barrel, and posting of prices for East Texas crude oil, as announced by the Humble Oil & Refining Company last night, became effective this morning. At the same time the Humble Pipe Line Company announced it was reducing its tariff and delivery costs by approximately 20 per cent.

W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, announced in a prepared statement that the moves were made in an attempt to equalize all crudes at seaboard.

To Exempt Small Wells

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21.—(AP)—Members of the state corporation commission indicated today an order would be issued granting the request of Ray Collins state oil umpire, to lift the curb on all state wells producing up to 20 barrels daily.

The order would add about 12,000 barrels of oil daily to allowable production in Oklahoma.

Under an order issued yesterday, aid was seen for small refineries in the Oklahoma City area through increased flow from the Oklahoma City oil field.

The order, effective April 20, increased the allowable flow from 125,000 barrels to 165,000 barrels for the rest of April and to 175,000 barrels daily the month of May.

SHOUSE DENIES HE MADE STATEMENTS ATTRIBUTED TO HIM

SETS FESS OF REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE RIGHT ON MAGAZINE ARTICLE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—Chairman Shouse of the democratic national executive committee toady denied the charge by Chairman Fess of the republican nationa comimittee that he had said in a California seech the republican organization purchased for distribution 10,000,000 copies of a magazine article attacking John J. Raskob on religious grounds.

Shouse said the Fess allegations were based upon "an alleged publication in a San Francisco newspaper, which quoted Shouse as saying the Republican committee purchased 10,000,000 copies of a magazine containing an anti-Raskob article by Robert Cruise McManus, a newspaperman.

He said he had never heard of McManus and added he referred in his San Francisco speech to an article published in Scribner's magazine last September.

"I stated," he said, "that the Republican national committee reproduced in pamphle form excerpts from this article under the heading 'Smear Hoover—Raskob Order to His Subsidized Propagandists,' a copy of which I have now before me.

"I charged and I repeat, that this pamphlet constituted a large part of the republican publicity in the congressional campaigns of last fall.

"I charged that because of John Raskob's prominence as a member of the Catholic church, his name in this instance, and in numerous other instances, has been brought forward by the high command of the Republican national committee with the definite purpose of attempting to relight the fires of religious bigotry which played so deplorable a part in the campaign of 1928."

Legion Commander Defends His Body

DALLAS, April 23.—(AP)—Ralph T. O'Neil of Topeka, Kans., national commander of the American Legion, in a speech here today struck back at critics of the legion's support of legislation under which world war veterans now are borrowing up to 50 per cent of the face value of their adjusted service compensation certificates. Dallas was his first stop in Texas on a tour of legion posts in the Southwest.

"The money we are receiving on these certificaates is ours," said O'Neil. "It doesn't belong to the United States government nor to the secretary of the treasury. The American Legion has never presented any program to congress that would place an unjust burden on the country."

O'Neil was guest at a breakfast presided over by Col. Alvin M. Owsley of Dallas, past national commander of the legion.

Afterward, O'Neil left Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. He also expected to visit Plainview, Lubbock and Amarillo, before proceeding to New Mexico and the Pacific coast.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 1 point higher and fluctuated within a narrow rage during the early trading.

Nearly cables from Liverpool were a shade lower than due on the New York close of yesterday, but prices there steadied up somewhat just before the local opening and the initial advance here was attributed to covering. While temperature remained rather low, weather reports were considered rather more favorable than yesterday and may have led to a little more selling, but it was readily absorbed and orders were evidently well divided. At the end of the first half hour May was selling around 10.07 and October 10.70, or about 1 to 2 points net higher.

Liverpool cable advices said covering and continental buying in that market had been absorbed by liquidation and Alexandria selling and reported a poor demand for cotton cloths from India and China. Egyptian futures in the Alexandria market were unchanged to 22 points higher but the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 6 points lower. A private report was published pointing to a decrease of 11.9 per cent in acreage.

Richland Circles Entertain Wortham Missionary Women

RICHLAND, Apr. 23. (Spl.)—On Tuesday of last week Circles No. 1 and No. 2 of the Methodist church entertained the Wortham Circle in a delightful social session, climaxing a three day membership drive of the Methodist ladies of Richland. New and propective members enjoyed the entertaining and informative program that the Wortham ladies assisted in.

The meeting opened with song, address of welcome by Mrs. Ruben Milligan and response by Mrs. Croson of Wortham, after which a scripture was read by Mrs. McCord and a prayer by Mrs. A. M. Swink. Mrs. Van Elkins and Mrs. Walter McDaniel rendered a duet.

The Wortham ladies presented a very informative poster demonstration of the duties of each officer. After a quartet by Richland, Wortham gave a playet. Mrs. Allen made a brief talk after which Rev. Morrison pronounced the benediction.

A jovful social hour was then spent with renewing of old acquaintances and making of new friends.

The refreshment plate consisted of chicken salad, cheese, sandwiches, the bread being blue; lemonade with blue cubes of ice, pickles and sand tarts. Blue bonnets was the note of the decorating scheme.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP)—Grain prices here went downward early today influenced by Liverpool quotations lower than expected and by rumors of a bank failure at Amster. Falling off in the volume of wheat shipments from the Black Sea and from Argentina failed to act as an offset. Opening at 1-4 to 3-4 cents down wheat afterward held near to the initial limits. Corn started 1-8 to 1 off and established a new low price record for the season.

Wheat closed heavy, 1-8 to 1 3-8 cents lower, corn 3-8 to 1 1-4 down, oats 1-8 to 7-8 off, and provisions showing 5 to 45 cents setback.

DEATH SENTENCES AFFIRMED BY COURT CRIMINAL APPEALS

TWO SENTENCED TO CHAIR AND THIRD LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR MURDER

AUSTIN, April 22.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the two death penalties and one life imprisonment sentence against the alleged slayers of Bert Ellison, customs officer at Weslaco.

Nicandro Munoz and Victor Rodriguez, were assessed the extreme penalty and Jose Maria Lopez was sentenced to life imprisonment. The fatal shooting occurred August 9.

Ellison was attacked from ambush and Munoz and Rordiquez confessed. They said Victor and Margarito Rodriguez killed the officer while Munoz and Lopez held him.

Victor and Margarito Rodriguez, resisted arrest the next day, Margarito being killed and Victor wounded.

A grudge against officers as a result of a deportation was claimed to have led to the killing. Ellison had gone to a Mexican dance to check up on law violators and he separated from his companion officer.

With Judge Lattimore dissenting, the court reversed and remanded the five year murder sentence against Jack Fowler from San Saba county. A group of young people returning from a dance had thrown a rock on Fowler's house. A few moments later Louise Isham, 11 year member of the party was fatally shot, Fowler claimed he had not heard the rock and was shooting at an owl.

The majority of the court reversed the judgment because the state was permitted to offer testimony of Fowler that he did not attend the girl's funeral. This testimony and the district attorney's argument concerning it was prejudicial, the court held.

"I cannot sanction a reversal of this case upon shadowy possibility of harm to the accused from proof of his admission he did not attend the child's funeral," Lattimore stated. He said the fact the jury assessed only five years proved it was not inflamed.

The 25 year robbery sentences against Claud C. Clifton and Tom Boyd Darnell from Wharton county were afirmed. The court also affirmed the four year murder sentence against Mat Green from Palo Pinto county.

The appeal of Charles "Little Chuck" Wilson, sentenced to 20 years imprisonment upon conviction of murder in Gray county was dismissed at appellant's request. The court affirmed the 17 year criminal assault sentence against Lee Collins, from Rockwall county.

WELFARE WORKERS CLAIM MEXICANS PAID LOW WAGES

DALLAS, April 23.—(AP)—The annual Texas conference on Social Welfare today discussed what speakers termed "unfairly low" wages paid Mexican laborers, Mexican emigration from colonies in this country back to Mexico and the yielding of family "case work" to material needs in organized charities.

J. B. Rawlins, executive secretary of the El Paso Associated Charities, declared "the question of the Mexican in this country will never be solved until he is paid wages comparable to ordinary living expenses."

Prof R. M. Woods of Huntsville, executive secretary of the interracial commission of Texas, led the discussion of the delinquency section.

Other speakers included Miss Stelal Ward, Austin, and Carlos E. Castaneda, Austin.

Beautiful Galilee Memories of Master In Mountains Alone

Marvel and Mystery of Christ's Practice And Teaching of Prayer --- Profound Present Implications of His Example.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

On my desk lies the manuscript of a book upon the Lake of Galilee, sent me for criticism by a friend who has for two years lived on the edge of the Lake; and who has repeatedly traversed afoot every mile of the shores of this best loved body of water. He calls up from the past the great and dramatic events which have marked this history-crowded spot. Most of all I appreciate his place-allusions to the experiences of Jesus. To me it means less that the Crusaders suffered their decisive defeat at the Horns of Hattin than that these twin heights were first to greet the eye of Jesus as he journeyed from Nazareth to the Lake; and that on their slopes He may have uttered the Sermon on the Mount. What care I that here Herod built a castle; that here the Romans slaughtered the Jews in a terrible battle; that this cliff of caves was a scene of heroism and of horrors; that yonder was a royal health resort; that through Capernaum ran the great road to the East?

Most appealing to the imagination, as one surveys these shores, is the knowledge that on yonder hillside—perhaps in a prehistoric cave of the Robber Valley—Jesus spent whole nights in prayer. Every height about the Lake is hallowed by the mystery of the Son in communion with the Father. Wonderful words and works marked the Master's Association with the people about the Lake; but more awe-inspiring, more heart-searching, is the fact that all this terrain was His place of prayer. Deepest thought is stirred by contemplation of the Christ at His private devotions.

A Staggering Idea.

For here is somehing wonderful. This idea that man may talk with God and be answered, transcends all the philosophies of the past. If God be God, and as great as God must be, how can He heed the needs and desires of any one of the billions of mortals who have inhabited this earth? Cold reason rejects the proposition as presumptious. The Almighty seems too ineffably remote and powerful to be bothered with the petty pleas of mere man.

Nevertheless, that is exactly what Jesus taught. It was of a piece with His message that God is above all else a Father, personally interested in the affairs of His children. Nothing that is great enough to concern a human being is too small to concern the Infinite, whose favorite name for Himself is Father. This was the new idea of God that Jesus brought to man.

Thus also He lifted man up to heights at which we marvel. Mortal has the power to commune with the Infinite. Man's capacity for prayer is a more significant fact about him than anything the anthropologists have discovered. Consider the dignity and power with which the least of human beings is crowned by thus being admitted, for familiar converse, to the throne of the Most High. How dare man be mean and vile when re has such possibilities? For it is in the school of prayer that man learns how to become at his best; and knows himself to be a child of the Heavenly Father.

Keeping Everlastingly At It.

We read that it was the habit of Jesus to retreat to the deserts and the mountains for prayer. Prayer is not a once-for-all act; it is as continuous as breathing or eating. This thought was expressed in the Model Prayer, "Give us day by day our daily bread"—new food for each day. Even Christ had to have the regular reinvigoration of His spiritual life at the fountain of prayer. "Keeping everlastingly at it" is the Divine law of prayer.

In a story, which He used merely as an analogy, Jesus pictured the power of persistent prayer. The importunate widow got her desired boon by ceaseless insistence upon it. If every impulsive, casual petition were granted—if prayer were a magic device for giving mortals everything they want at the moment—it would destroy man and dishonor God. It is the prayer which stands the test of time; which comes to know itself as a vital thing, that gets answer. Anything worth praying for is worth waiting for. And as Phillip Brooks finely said, "Prayer is not overcoming God's reluctance, but laying hold of God's willingness." He wants to give good gifts to His children. The most unfatherly office He could fulfill would be to accede to all the hasty, ignorant requests of His children. That would be like a man's letting his baby have his bright razor to play with, simply because the baby cries for it. Time sifts prayers, and makes the petitioner wiser.

A little Love Story.

It is less the wishes of the lips than the need of the life that God heeds. There art some prayers that are so inwrought with the desire of the soul that they are irresistable. I know a young man who loved a girl who had many suitors. His was a real love, the overmastering passion of his life. The girl rejected his suit, and treated him with the careless cruelty that seems so strangely possible for fine women. Nevertheless, having tested his love by time, by separation, by association with other women and by rebuff, the young man knew that it was real, a deathless part of his innermost being.

So he held steady to his purpose. With wisdom and restraint, he persisted in his pursuit—and now they are happily married. His love had the patient, dauntless quality of the importunate widow's prayer. After all, any boon that is important enough to seek of God is worth waiting for—and throughout life and death, if need be. Heaven is the place of fulfilled prayers. One comprehensive answer to prayer is to enter into the patience of God.

The Snob and the Sinner.

Another story Jesus told in His teaching about prayer. It was a picture drawn from life; and easily recognized by His hearers, so that they received it with grins and nudges. One figure was a religious snob, a Pharisee, who publicly permitted God to rear him boast about his self-righteousness. Virtues may not be paraded; for thereby they cease to be virtues. No man has merit enough to offer it as a claim upon God. This Pharisee missed the very first requisite of true prayer which is a humble recognition that the All-Wise King of the Universe is upon His throne. God is God, and must be recognized as such.

On the other hand, in vivid contrast to the Pharisee, was the poor Publican, a miserable tax-collector, who was overwhelmed by a consciousness of his own undeserving. All he could do, as he bowed low in humility, was to cdy, "God be merciful to me a sinner!" And that prayer was a real prayer and obtained favor from the Lord.

Is there not warrant for saying that God is more interested in the pray-er than in his prayer? That is why the two persons in the parable received different answers. Here opens the whole field of the relation of prayer to character. Nobody would expect God to answer the prayers of a godless person. For the very doorstep to the house of prayer is "Thy will be done;" the life is offered before the petition. "The fervent, effectual prayer of a RIGHTEOUS man availeth much."

The Great Question.

In between His two parables, Jesus interjected a remark that grows more luminous as it is contemplated—"When the Son of Man Comes will He find faith on earth?"

That is the Lord's own idea of what is most important. Nobody else would have laid down such a criterion. A statesman would have said, "When the Judge of all the earth comes, will He find peace and prosperity?" A social reformer would have said "Will He find the old abuses of society ended ,and men living in equally shared comfort and hapiness" A modern materialists would have said, "Will He find skyscrapers and automobiles and radios and the other signs of man's colossal achievements?"

But the Judge Himself says He will look for faith; a sense of spiritutl values: a trustful reliance upon God the Father; a childlike state of heart that regards prayer as more important than monty and godliness as the great goal. When the Master comes looking, will He find faith —such faith in the Father as He taught and practiced. "For this is the victory tha overcometh the world, even our faih."
